Ep# 13 | WTF does it take to Build Influence Today? Nikhil w/ Nuseir, Tanmay, Prajakta & Ranveer

[Speaker 3] (0:00 - 0:41)

Give me one unique hack, each, to a 20 year old boy or girl who wants to become a creator. Hi guys, thank you, lovely to meet you for the first time.

[Speaker 4] (0:41 - 0:42)

Thank you for having me.

[Speaker 3] (0:43 - 0:53)

Say that to us also. No, I can't say it to these guys, because I know them too well. They're all brothers from a long time, in different ways.

I know more about them.

[Speaker 1] (0:53 - 0:55)

So, if I'm a brother, do I get part of the inheritance?

[Speaker 2] (0:57 - 1:03)

I have no kids, dude. Bro, there's no inheritance, he's giving it all away. Did you not hear?

Ah, okay.

I'm Nikhil, Nitin and Nitesh. I'm Nitesh, actually.

[Speaker 2] (1:06 - 1:10)

You guys don't know. But that's assuming you would live longer than I.

[Speaker 1] (1:11 - 1:13)

No, even when there's a partition, I need some time.

[Speaker 2] (1:15 - 1:17)

Oh, is this the kind of podcast we're going to have today?

[Speaker 3] (1:17 - 1:18)

Just like have fun.

[Speaker 2] (1:18 - 1:19)

The one with no English language?

[Speaker 3] (1:21 - 1:31)

No, no, we'll keep it English. No, but you guys are the pros at this. I'm the newbie.

I do this one night a month. I'm trying to learn how you do this. So, teach me along the way.

[Speaker 1] (1:31 - 1:36)

Says the guy who uploaded number one on Spotify this week. WTF.

[Speaker 3] (1:37 - 2:01)

But also, Naz, because these guys have watched it maybe. It's a conversation between... I've watched it.

It's a conversation between all of us. It's not me asking questions. It's not you answering.

So we can all talk. Typically, we begin by saying a bit about ourselves. And because I know you guys, this is going to be fun.

Should we start with Prajakta?

[Speaker 4] (2:01 - 2:25)

Oh, okay. Yeah, hi. Do I say it to everybody?

Yeah. Oh, then it's awkward. But, I'm Prajakta.

I'm a content creator, actor. Now, from Mumbai, India. And I started creating content in 2015.

And I've been doing it for close to nine years now. And I kind of also branched out into acting a little bit in 2019.

[Speaker 3] (2:26 - 2:27)

Why did you first begin creating content?

[Speaker 4] (2:29 - 3:11)

Because I failed at the one dream that I had. I wanted to be a radio jockey ever since I was 11. Failed meaning?

I became a radio jockey and the show didn't work. And I got fired. And I also hurt myself.

So I get it. So when I started doing radio, it was fun for the first, I think, couple of months. And then later, it just got...

It was nothing like I'd imagined it would be. So it's quite disappointing. And that's when I met Sudeep from One Digital.

And he was like, You should have a YouTube channel. You should create content. And I didn't know what that meant.

And I was very unhappy as a radio intern. So I was like, you know what? I'm just going to try content.

In Bombay, 10 years ago? In Mumbai, yeah. And it just started like that.

I had absolutely no dreams. Or no kind of way forward. Or any idea about what I was doing.

[Speaker 3] (3:12 - 3:20)

All of you guys have done influencing for so long. You know what is one thing which is so stark? Like the way your voice has influenced...

So sorry, one second.

[Speaker 2] (3:20 - 3:44)

I have to stop you. There's no such thing as influencing. What do I call it?

No one here has done any influencing. What do I call it? Influencers are the fathers, the doctors, the mothers, the teachers.

They influence children. We've done creating of content. We created content.

And it has impacted people. But influencer is a term. It's like Mumbai, Bombay.

Influencer is a term. It's like slightly self-obsessed. No?

What do you guys think?

[Speaker 4] (3:45 - 3:47)

I never related to that term, honestly.

[Speaker 1] (3:47 - 3:59)

Prajakta, actually, I want to add. Prajakta was one of the earlier generations on YouTube. Then she did a short film called Khayali Pulao.

In case you haven't seen. That was the first time I saw Prajakta act.

[Speaker 5] (3:59 - 3:59)

Good?

[Speaker 1] (3:59 - 4:11)

Yeah, really good. And I messaged her also after that. Saying, shit, I didn't know you could act.

That's crazy. And now that you mention theatre. And then, yeah, I've known Prajakta for a while.

She's extremely hardworking. You're Marathi?

[Speaker 4] (4:12 - 4:15)

I am, yes. My momma's from Delhi. Baba's from...

[Speaker 3] (4:15 - 4:16)

What do your parents do?

[Speaker 4] (4:17 - 4:26)

Baba used to work... He was in Cadbury before. And then later he was working in real estate.

And momma was a phonetics teacher. She used to teach languages.

[Speaker 1] (4:27 - 4:28)

Phonetics teacher?

[Speaker 4] (4:28 - 4:28)

Yeah.

[Speaker 3] (4:29 - 4:30)

What is that?

[Speaker 4] (4:31 - 4:40)

So, I mean, she used to have a bunch of kids. Because apparently they're not taught ABCD anymore. It's A, B, C, D.

So, it's the phonetics that... And she used to teach that.

[Speaker 2] (4:40 - 4:41)

I'll tell you more about her.

[Speaker 4] (4:41 - 4:44)

Oh, wow. Why is this? We're introducing each other.

[Speaker 3] (4:44 - 4:51)

Can we do this? Can the three of you say... What does Prajakta appear to the outside world in your lens?

[Speaker 1] (4:51 - 5:07)

Yeah. So, I'd had Priyanka Chopra on the podcast once. And she gave this example of a swan that looks like...

It's very peaceful on the surface. But on the inside, the feet are paddling. I don't think I've come across a more hardworking and disciplined professional than this person.

[Speaker 5] (5:07 - 5:09)

Seconded. She's very hardworking.

[Speaker 2] (5:09 - 5:31)

She's probably the most disciplined content creator that I've known throughout my career. And she is Bill Gates' favorite creator. Every time I see her, it's either at Bill Gates' conference or at Davos' conference.

So, she represents India in the major conferences. I'll tell you what. They're not going to invite Tanmay for this.

Too risky.

[Speaker 1] (5:32 - 5:34)

Not anymore, brother.

[Speaker 3] (5:34 - 5:38)

How is that? How do you get yourself in these places?

[Speaker 4] (5:39 - 6:57)

I think YouTube had a huge role to play in that. 2019 is when YouTube kind of reached out to me for this program called Creators for Change. 2018.

And they were like, do you want to... So, they picked a few creators from across the world and they put like a band of us together. And they're like, make videos for this program called Creators for Change.

And every year, they have different themes. In 2019... In 2018 is when they reached out for the first time.

And then 2019 was the second year. And that's when there was this documentary that they were making with Michelle Obama for girls' education. And they reached out to me for that.

And I think that was my first kind of step up from what I was doing back home. And that kind of opened a lot of doors for me. So, YouTube has been a huge cheerleader in my journey beyond just doing the content that I was natively doing on my channel.

Just putting me out there, giving me a platform to speak about things. And then I happened to meet Nikhil Taneja who kind of put me in touch with goalkeepers. So, that's how that started.

The UNDP kind of came in through both these channels. So, it kind of went into a whole domino effect once the first Creators for Change video went out. And yeah.

So, that's how it began.

[Speaker 3] (6:58 - 7:01)

And when did you blow up and all of that? 2018, 2017?

[Speaker 4] (7:02 - 7:11)

My first video actually went viral. So, I started in Feb of 2015. And the first video that really, really blew up was in the July of that year.

[Speaker 3] (7:11 - 7:12)

What was it about?

[Speaker 4] (7:12 - 7:28)

It was a video called Words Delhiites Use. I heard a lot of Delhi ego in that video. But it kind of like blew up.

And then it's just been like a roller coaster. Like it was not one week was like another for a very, very long time.

[Speaker 3] (7:29 - 7:32)

Very cool. And now, what are you looking forward to?

[Speaker 4] (7:33 - 7:39)

I'm looking forward to more acting. I'm looking, I'm writing. Is that a natural transition?

[Speaker 3] (7:40 - 7:42)

Creator, distribution, acting?

[Speaker 4] (7:42 - 8:07)

It wasn't planned. I was very surprised when it started coming my way. Because I didn't, when I started making content, I didn't, I don't think any of us thought that these avenues were actually even possible for us.

So, I was very surprised with it. I've always loved acting. And I missed it after I quit theatre.

So, when it came, I was like, okay, I'm going to give it a try. But it wasn't conscious, no. It just kind of happened.

Is there a hierarchy in that world?

[Speaker 3] (8:07 - 8:21)

Like I know there is a hierarchy between TV actors and large screen actors. When an influencer comes into that world, is it tougher? Like are you treated the same as an actor-actor?

[Speaker 4] (8:23 - 8:53)

I feel like I also happen to be very fortunate to become an actor at a time when it's, when the lines are slightly blurrier than they were before. I feel like OTT really opened it up for actors, where now if you see, like for example, seeing what Karishma Tanna is doing or what Harman Baweja is doing, like it was, it's just crazy seeing them. Because now suddenly I don't think that, I don't think that hierarchy is there, where, you know, if you're a TV actor, you won't get cast, because TV, film, theatre, everybody's doing OTT.

[Speaker 3] (8:53 - 8:59)

I don't mean from a casting lens, but from a societal hierarchy perception lens.

[Speaker 2] (9:00 - 9:17)

I think there is. Unfortunately, there is. There's even, there's even classism between platforms.

If we are a TikToker, a Facebooker, a YouTuber or an Instagrammer, it's like YouTuber is like class one citizen, then Instagrammer, then TikToker, then Facebooker. Is that true?

[Speaker 1] (9:17 - 9:18)

Yeah, I agree.

[Speaker 2] (9:19 - 9:25)

Do you agree with the classism? What did you say again, the order? I think YouTube, Instagram, Facebook, TikTok, Facebook.

[Speaker 1] (9:26 - 9:36)

I think, see the people who, there's a line that I think Kunal Shah had once said, which is, Jitna vada screen, utna vada profile.

[Speaker 5] (9:37 - 9:37)

Right?

[Speaker 1] (9:37 - 10:24)

Like, the bigger the screen, the higher the status. Right? So, movie, you perceive, perception is very high status.

And then for a long time, it was like television came before digital. And I think now digital is kind of penetrating a lot of it. Mostly my thesis is that, hey, if you own distribution, you own eyeballs, no matter what, where you move to, the eyeballs will travel there.

And it's playing out in the OTT world. Like Bhuvan has his own show, Prajakta has her own show. But I think it still plays out in ways like, if an Instagram creator gets a hoarding, they're on a hoarding, it's still a huge moment.

It becomes the real thing. Oh, look, I'm on a hoarding. Even though every story gets way more eyeballs than a hoarding would.

[Speaker 2] (10:25 - 10:28)

What's a hoarding? A hoarding, like a billboard. Oh, you were on a billboard days with me.

[Speaker 4] (10:29 - 10:29)

I was, yes.

[Speaker 2] (10:29 - 10:30)

A candy thing.

[Speaker 4] (10:30 - 10:31)

Yeah, with candy.

[Speaker 2] (10:32 - 10:40)

So when I was on a billboard, the billboard gets what, 10 views, 20 views? Exactly. But the picture of the billboard on Instagram gets so many likes.

[Speaker 1] (10:40 - 11:31)

I have something to say about Kunal. The screen, what did you say? The bigger the screen is, The bigger the screen, higher the status.

And then combining it with us getting older and times changing, I'd be way more excited to meet Joe Rogan than Tom Cruise. Because Joe Rogan's affected my life so much in the last 10 years. And I'm not at all Gen Z.

I'm like a core millennial. But I can see how my thought process is becoming more Gen Z just because of the times. And I'm sure that a lot of Gen Z's would say that about the digital stars who've survived in the long term.

Like I don't care about meeting Hollywood actors. I would care a lot about meeting Nawal Ravikant and Joe Rogan. You think that'll be true for you?

It was true even in the previous generation. Let me explain how. Like, in our time, it would be insanely cool to hang out with an MTV VJ.

Yeah.

[Speaker 1] (11:31 - 11:33)

It would be very cool.

Yeah.

[Speaker 1] (11:33 - 11:35)

Right? Because they were not movie stars.

[Speaker 5] (11:35 - 11:37)

But they were the other category. Ranvijay.

[Speaker 1] (11:37 - 12:05)

Ranvijay, right? I'd give an arm and a leg to hang out with Ranvijay. So it was the other category of someone that you saw regularly.

Yeah. You'd see a movie star twice a year. But here were VJs who you'd see every day.

And similarly now, for people that'd be watching Muzair every day. So that feeling of, oh my god, I can't believe this moment is real. Happens more when you see someone regularly.

So I think digital folks have occupied that. Yeah. So it's been true for multiple generations, I think.

It's not just now.

[Speaker 3] (12:05 - 12:11)

Actually, very interesting. And the kids of today, the amount of time they spend on devices. Oh yeah.

Not watching movies.

[Speaker 1] (12:11 - 12:17)

The number one occupation for that people, why for today, especially kids, is influencer.

[Speaker 3] (12:18 - 12:24)

Yeah. You know, that's the reason why we were doing this. So this show is typically around people who want to be an entrepreneur.

[Speaker 2] (12:25 - 12:25)

Yeah.

[Speaker 3] (12:25 - 12:58)

So whatever a 20-year-old boy or girl needs to know about entering a certain industry, we try and hit that and give them all the info that is required. Like we did one around starting a restaurant recently. We did something else before that.

It has become so important, even for people like me, an entrepreneur, to build distribution. Because paying for distribution takes away so much of the delta you might have that a person with distribution brings organically.

[Speaker 5] (12:58 - 12:58)

Yeah.

[Speaker 3] (12:59 - 13:05)

I think we left off at, they said what they think about Prajakta, you did not. They said hardworking, hardworking.

[Speaker 2] (13:05 - 13:08)

No, I said that she's representing India to the world.

[Speaker 1] (13:09 - 13:14)

But speaking of hardworking, I want to mention something about Nusair. I don't know anyone who works as much.

[Speaker 2] (13:14 - 13:15)

You just said that about her.

[Speaker 1] (13:15 - 13:16)

No, I didn't say that about her.

[Speaker 2] (13:17 - 13:17)

No, no.

[Speaker 1] (13:17 - 13:20)

I did not work. I did not work.

[Speaker 3] (13:20 - 13:23)

Who works harder, Nusair or Prajakta? Him, him, him. For sure.

[Speaker 1] (13:23 - 13:42)

Nusair works incredibly hard. And I think, I once asked, I won't mention what he said, but I once asked Nusair saying what drives him. And he's got like an ambition and a purpose that is intensely strong.

You know. That I think is like, I don't feel that, what Nusair feels.

I also feel like with him, he's always so aware and so on. Like I'll at least, at least 20 times a day I'll have moments where I'll just zone out. And I'll not kind of keep up.

But anytime you meet him, and I've seen him at 5 o'clock in the morning at a breakfast buffet. I've seen him at 2 o'clock in the morning at a party with a drink. And I just feel like, I mean I, I had the drink.

But every time I've had a conversation with him, it's never been dull or it's never been kind of like, you know it's not, it's not small talk. Which I appreciate.

[Speaker 3] (14:21 - 14:34)

Each of you have a different journey from whatever profession to content creator. Yeah. To another profession.

Actor. Businessman. Social change maker.

[Speaker 2] (14:35 - 14:44)

No, no, no. Entrepreneur. Entrepreneur.

I'm not a social change maker. Entrepreneur sounds cooler than businessman. Businessman sounds like Anse Singhania sahib.

[Speaker 5] (14:44 - 14:45)

Hustler.

[Speaker 1] (14:45 - 14:51)

Hustler. What am I Tanmay? You are, you are king Nikhil.

You are poster boy.

[Speaker 5] (14:51 - 14:53)

Bangalore poster boy.

[Speaker 3] (14:53 - 14:54)

And Ranveer?

[Speaker 1] (14:55 - 15:03)

I think, I did a little bit of entrepreneurship but I'm back to being a content creator and I want to stay here. I'm really enjoying this. Wow.

Bro, get out.

[Speaker 5] (15:03 - 15:04)

Please get out.

[Speaker 2] (15:05 - 15:06)

It's mentally hard.

[Speaker 1] (15:08 - 15:39)

It's horrible in some ways but it's also beautiful in some ways because I think over the course of my 20s, my priorities have changed a lot and I'm really enjoying the work I do because it's truly not feeling like work. It does feel like spending a lot of hours creating that many podcasts and that much content but I think I've started craving heartfelt messages and impact in people's lives much more than I craved money and numbers and growth in my 20s. But I get to say that because I have the luxury.

[Speaker 2] (15:39 - 15:42)

Entrepreneurship is not money and that's the biggest surprise.

[Speaker 1] (15:42 - 16:04)

I also have the luxury of having really active co-founders who are growing the businesses and allowing me to just chase the content creation game because of the distribution thing you said earlier. Sorry. The easier way of saying that is if you're more famous, you reach out to more people, you can sell your product to more people eventually which we're seeing with all the businesses that are being built out in India.

[Speaker 2] (16:05 - 16:26)

But I'm going to say something controversial. At some point, you will not get more famous. At some point, you will saturate every single person in India that could potentially like you.

Then you'll have this amazing and sad decline and then the platforms want to show a different face, a different podcast, a different name and then, what do you do then? So, I mean, I try. Do you have fun at parties?

[Speaker 4] (16:28 - 16:30)

See, that is why I had a drink when I saw you.

[Speaker 2] (16:32 - 16:38)

I'm just saying there's a shelf life to creator life. Interesting. I think so.

[Speaker 1] (16:38 - 17:05)

And I intend on exiting creator life at some point. Yes. But also, cumulatively, I have like a bunch of channels.

We have a lot. I'm not like number dropping you. But we have like 20 to 25 million across those channels.

I have a huge amount of distribution. And the thing is, we're in a country of 1.5 billion people. 1.6, I don't know. What is the number? What are 1.6 billion people? 1.3. But we added 300 million now in the last 10 seconds.

[Speaker 4] (17:06 - 17:09)

You never really know. You never have an exact number.

[Speaker 2] (17:09 - 17:10)

You're rounding error.

[Speaker 1] (17:11 - 17:30)

1.5 for the sake of conversation. What is 25 million people in front of 1.5 billion people to capture? I've got these 25 million people over the last 8 years.

So even if I continue for another 20 years, I think I'll reach a really large number. But also, I have an English channel and a Hindi channel.

[Speaker 2] (17:30 - 17:52)

And my intentions with English are very international. My intentions with Hindi are very national. But your problem is not the population of India.

It's the social media algorithm. Eventually, they will say, I don't want to give this guy too much distribution because the best interest of YouTube is to have a new Mr. Beast every five years. Which is why I'll also be aggressive on my Instagram.

Can you tell me why that is?

[Speaker 3] (17:53 - 17:56)

Why will YouTube benefit from creating a new Mr. Beast when there is one already?

[Speaker 2] (17:56 - 18:28)

Because imagine a world in which on YouTube we only watch Mr. Beast as the number one creator for the next 30 years. That is not actually in YouTube's best interest. You want new faces.

I mean, just like Hollywood. You want new faces. But why can't there be Mr. Beast plus plus?

Because in the content world, there is the power law in which 20% of the creators get 80% of that attention. The power law is massive here. So it's not like everybody gets 1 million views.

Are you hell happy? No, it's like if one person is slightly more engaging, they'll get 10 times more than the one next to them.

[Speaker 1] (18:29 - 19:38)

Except I think it's not as sinister as if you just take this clip out of context. It's like Susan Wojcicki sitting down and it's like enough of Mr. Beast now. Yeah.

Love you, Neel. It's not as sinister as that sound. It's just what happens is that look, all platforms at the end of the day, digital platforms are trying to grab eyeballs from other platforms.

So they all eventually tweak their algorithm just a little bit. And sometimes it can take creators by surprise that oh, X thing was working for so long. And now it's no longer working.

Some of this is a byproduct of just general audience fatigue. Which is, if I, like I know I'm a type of creator who I'm a binge watch type of creator. Which is people come into my shit, they're gonna watch me for three months and they're like, I get this thing now but I'm over it and I'm gonna move on.

So my attrition rate on my viewers, I look at it as okay, this is a three to four month game. And that can take creators by surprise. And in the 10 years that I've, you know, 10, 12 years that I've been around, there have been, we call them batches of creators.

There are creators who come in batches and then, you know, four years later you gotta reinvent yourself or else the next batch will take over so on and so forth.

So let me be the bad guy and sound the alarm to everybody listening and watching this podcast which is, guys, you must plan and engineer your exit plan. When you make it big as a content creator, because no one sees the decline because you're not getting the views. The decline is oftentimes very lonely.

No one has seen the decline of like the Hollywood celebrities but you just haven't seen them in movies. But you totally forgot about them. So you must always get an exit plan which I believe should be either entrepreneurship or acting or books or whatever.

And how long do you think this journey typically is? If you make it as a creator. So I, I would love to hear what you guys think.

I think life goes in seven year chunks. Seven year, how did you come to this number? That's interesting.

So there's a, we were just talking about it, the seven year itch.

[Speaker 3] (20:26 - 20:29)

We have something in Hindu culture as well. Seven years of good luck, bad luck.

[Speaker 5] (20:31 - 20:31)

interesting.

[Speaker 2] (20:32 - 20:43)

What is the average marriage in India, in the US and the average marriage in China? It's 6.6 years. Oh, really?

Why is that? Is that all? Well, in India it's probably 70 years the average.

No.

[Speaker 2] (20:46 - 20:48)

Why are people still getting married then?

[Speaker 5] (20:48 - 20:51)

We're not going to discuss personal problems now.

[Speaker 2] (20:53 - 21:04)

What I'm trying to say is your taste buds even change. Your cells in your body change every seven years. What kind of taste buds?

Every, somebody told me this, don't quote me on this but every cell in your body changes every seven years. How long did you and Adin date for?

[Speaker 5] (21:04 - 21:12)

Seven years! No wonder you're so confident with your numbers. Whose taste buds changed?

[Speaker 1] (21:14 - 21:17)

Interesting. Yeah, that seems fair.

[Speaker 3] (21:17 - 21:19)

How long have you been a content creator?

[Speaker 1] (21:20 - 21:27)

Since 2000 and, so I began by doing stand-up which is technically content creation. That was 2009 is when I started doing stand-up.

[Speaker 3] (21:27 - 21:28)

So you've done 14 years. Wow.

[Speaker 1] (21:29 - 21:46)

14 years. 14 years. Different iterations, different formats.

Different formats. Actually before that I was writing for television. So I started by writing comedy first then I started performing comedy then I did YouTube and then I started doing, I started doing everything else.

[Speaker 3] (21:46 - 21:50)

I was one of the first 20,000 people who followed AIV on Facebook.

[Speaker 1] (21:50 - 21:52)

Oh really? For the AIV podcast.

[Speaker 3] (21:52 - 21:58)

But you guys should now introduce yourselves because I know you guys but people will want to know.

[Speaker 1] (21:59 - 22:02)

I've introduced myself on this podcast like four times.

[Speaker 3] (22:03 - 22:25)

Tanmay is like the OG. He's like the co-founder of this podcast. He's the co-founder for 20 companies too.

Everyone I meet in Bangalore now is like Tanmay is my co-founder. He's taking over Bangalore. Are you franchising the founder?

Either co-founder or he's written the ads or he's doing some marketing work with them. Like I'm not kidding. I'm working with Tanmay on five different things.

[Speaker 1] (22:26 - 22:30)

So funny. Yeah, maybe you could have just said I enjoy working with Tanmay.

[Speaker 5] (22:30 - 22:32)

But thanks for bringing me to AIV.

[Speaker 1] (22:33 - 23:09)

Yeah, I think I began as I think to put it succinctly I began as an artist and a comedian and now I'm exploring my entrepreneurial side by doing a bunch of different things. But I think at the heart of at the heart of it I would, I still introduce myself as primarily as a comedian. Amongst all the terms like comedian, influencer, creator, entrepreneur I still find saying I'm a comic to be the coolest and or the most accurate version of Do you feel like in life you associate where you make the most money to your vocation?

[Speaker 2] (23:10 - 23:11)

Oh, that's a very good question.

[Speaker 1] (23:12 - 23:22)

Oh, super interesting question. I think Can you rephrase it? Do you think in life you want to associate yourself with the vocation that makes you If you do five things in life Yeah.

[Speaker 3] (23:23 - 23:32)

When somebody asks you what do you do? Do you say where you make the most money? Because I have this question asked me so many times and I wonder what should I say now?

[Speaker 1] (23:33 - 23:56)

No, I think for me it is I still go back to I still introduce myself to people who don't know me First I say is I'm a comedian. Which may not be the best idea because people often respond with okay this dude is going to be funny or he's going to roast me or whatever. But I don't know I find that to be a comedian is like an attitude of just leading life which is

[Speaker 3] (23:56 - 23:58)

It's a little anti-establishment

It is inherently a little anti-establishment like so I find that to be the most appealing even now like like someone was telling me the other day saying you should document your weight loss journey you should have a camera guy follow you and make those reels and you know we're losing weight and all that kind of stuff and inherently I was asking myself why have I not done that? And I feel I feel a little cringy talking about my achievements because it's such a it's such a weird thing to do whereas comedians are much better off like no comedian wants to get an award comedians want to be at the back of a room making fun of everybody who's gathered here for this thing I'll tell you an interesting story I was reading this book some book on history jesters in courts comedians in history have been part of culture for hundreds of years thousands of years they always had a very relevant and very important role in every court a lot that could not be spoken about openly because of societal conditioning the jester's role was to bring it into people's subconscious while making a joke about it and getting away with it so the very first jesters had crowns on their head they had almost the importance in society that a king had because these guys could actually speak their mind where nobody else could

[Speaker 1] (25:20 - 25:22)

that's because they were pardoned for speaking the truth

[Speaker 3] (25:22 - 25:23)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (25:23 - 25:26)

so it's inherently anti-establishment so it feels coolest

[Speaker 3] (25:26 - 25:28)

is that why you say comedian?

[Speaker 1] (25:28 - 26:08)

yeah I think that's why instinctively I want to go to that because I still think of it as the coolest term to describe when I think of you I think ad maker now marketing marketing yeah 100% even I think comedian every time I think of you interesting writer and comedian what do you think? I think elder brother oh come on come to shit you know the thing is the thing is every time I see every time I see like a comment that says Ranveer you're just so annoyingly positive all the time etc.

I'm like you guys don't even know the real life version of him he is 5x more annoying in person wants to meet you give you a hug kiss you on the cheek so frustrating

[Speaker 3] (26:08 - 26:13)

you know when I was younger my mum would watch Kasarti Zindagi Ki

[Speaker 5] (26:13 - 26:15)

and Kyunki Saas Bhi Kabhi Baat

[Speaker 3] (26:15 - 26:30)

so I have seen a few versions of Mihir a few versions of Tulsi Ganga like all the characters I remember them vaguely Ranveer would make such a good Mihir oh my god that is so true

[Speaker 4] (26:30 - 26:32)

that is so true sorry I got too excited

[Speaker 3] (26:32 - 26:34)

he is like the dream son-in-law

[Speaker 1] (26:34 - 26:49)

you guys are my friends I'm friends with all of you at this table my friends know this about me but for some reason there's a playboy image that's spread that's really not me dude I want to get married I want to have kids I want to impress my mother-in-law that's what I really want to do

how do you see yourself as a playboy?

[Speaker 1] (26:50 - 26:57)

yeah nor do I my friends don't but apparently that's become an image I've seen Tanmay as a playboy

[Speaker 5] (26:57 - 26:58)

I've seen Tanmay as a playboy

so I had a series of videos on my Hindi channel which were basically about personality development and the context for the time is this is just when Reliance Jio had come out and the internet had become affordable in India so the Indian audiences were waking up to international standards about multiple things now one of the things I figured that people wanted to learn was personality development like learning to speak better English learning table manners learning etiquette which we take for granted while we're growing up in urban India I tried making a video called 5 personality development tips no one clicked on it then I made a series of videos called how to impress girls okay which means how do you impress girls okay but the content was the same as personality development but that branding stayed till now that's one of the downsides of content creation I have so much to say about the downsides of content creation over the years that people don't understand that we're growing up in front of the world we have to inherently and sometimes made to grow up

yeah yeah that too you know when I see you I think good guy at heart vulnerable to a large extent but persuaded by too much in life not playboy at all I feel like overthinking relationships maybe yes over complicating the notion of romantic relationship and trying to break it down and make it work and all of that maybe yes but not that when I look at Tanmay

[Speaker 5] (28:36 - 28:37)

I see you

[Speaker 3] (28:39 - 28:43)

when I look at Tanmay I see somebody who is about to become a playboy

[Speaker 4] (28:43 - 28:44)

oh wow

[Speaker 3] (28:44 - 28:45)

on the verge

[Speaker 4] (28:45 - 28:46)

that is why he wants

[Speaker 3] (28:46 - 28:47)

to document his weight loss

[Speaker 4] (28:47 - 28:48)

journey also

[Speaker 3] (28:48 - 28:52)

on the cliff like you know on the other side is chaos

[Speaker 4] (28:52 - 28:53)

2024 Tanmay

[Speaker 3] (28:53 - 29:04)

I mean like fun chaos but I feel like he's walking up that cliff and then he's gonna go to the other side and dive I know Tanmay so intimately because I have my first job in life

[Speaker 1] (29:04 - 29:54)

before I started content creation I was a fitness trainer right after college I'll tell you a story Ranveer and I started speaking because Ranveer used to send me drunk texts on Facebook what? he would get drunk and he would text me saying bro I just love you so much I just want to lift weights with you bro I just love you too much he used to be so loving that I was like alright alright just come this is like in my final semester of engineering college when I knew that I'm not going to go down a traditional route I got a fitness certification done and I figured out how much money there is to be made as a fitness trainer because my ultimate career goal in life was to set up three gyms in Bombay and guys I really tried to get him to not get into content to be fair to me I tried to tell him to do the gym thing but it didn't work out so one of the things I'm always gonna so I'm getting romantic with my elder brother

oh my god but

there's one thing I'll always owe to him so I'd started training people because it was paying me really well and I was working on this app I wanted to build I wanted to build like an Uber for fitness coaches we can sit at home and like call a yoga session call a weight training session whatever yeah what an awful idea yeah in retrospect I understand it but at that point my only skills were fitness marketing and like some wild business ideas I just wanted to get started to train myself I started training people actually one of the people I trained was him and this is when influencer marketing didn't even exist in India

was this before beer biceps?

this was just when yeah little bit before little bit before things took off and I literally didn't know that influencer marketing existed as a concept we trained for like maybe like a year-ish no no six months tops but those six months were like education for me about the wave that was going to come which eventually led to the formation of Munk Entertainment which led to me quitting fitness training so thanks

[Speaker 4] (31:02 - 31:42)

but that happens when you talk to Tanmay every time I have spent time talking to him there's always so much insight in just not what's happening now but what's going to happen so a lot of the conversation today because I was thinking about it after we left also was what's going to happen and what the next step should be and what he wants to do so I like the fact that he's always been someone I feel like who's always sort of the next step and take it forward and that's helped a lot that's been very helpful for creators like us a lot because we didn't have that knowledge or we didn't have wisdom to even know where is this going and how to take this forward

but this is an annoying habit of mine which is when I meet other creators I really like to tell them what I'm thinking that's not annoying at all what I'm thinking but it's gotta be with someone where you think there's a safe space where you can really talk about what you're thinking without them being like what a piece of shit do you still think about AIB? yeah because it shows up on my timeline every now and then and I watch the videos and I'm like still good still good

it is

[Speaker 1] (32:08 - 32:09)

yeah, it's still good

[Speaker 3] (32:09 - 32:14)

I think comedians and politicians together form some of the smartest people in society

[Speaker 1] (32:15 - 32:30)

I wanna take that and just wanna widen the widen it a little bit like me and you have discussed I think a lot of the traits that politicians need which is effectively mass manipulation is what creators slash influencers need today

[Speaker 2] (32:30 - 32:36)

we're gonna have a creator president very soon yeah we almost did with Trump but yeah like a YouTuber president is gonna happen

[Speaker 1] (32:36 - 32:49)

it's gonna happen right that's a good one actually it's very possible you learn too much and you have access to too much data like you're able to almost I don't it sounds arrogant to say you can almost predict the future but when you have that much data

[Speaker 2] (32:49 - 33:18)

you can almost predict the future but you also get trained on criticism you get trained on how to block negative comments you really get this crash course I feel like if I run for prime minister of any country I feel like I'm ready I'm ready what are you gonna get okay you're gonna say bad things okay I already get them now I need to make videos okay we're already making the videos we have the editors you want a slogan for the campaign we have the marketers what else do you need that's it you just need to reach a million people you think that could happen here in India? I think so yeah in 10 years time is anybody on the cusp do you see any politicians barred creators? Ankit Bayyanpuri you know him Ram Ram Bhaisarayan Ram Ram Bhaisarayan the guy who 75 hard is he a politician now?

[Speaker 1] (33:36 - 33:52)

he's not but someone like that could gain that much that much distribution in fact I think there's like a mix of like I think newer age politicians will be a lot more digitally savvy like you take someone like Vivek in the US Vivek Ramaswamy

[Speaker 5] (33:52 - 33:53)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (33:53 - 34:05)

he's a creator every day there's a schedule and he goes and shoots something and there's like 5 clips of it that come out and you have to be a creator quote unquote but do you think

[Speaker 3] (34:05 - 34:07)

the voting audience is essentially

[Speaker 1] (34:07 - 34:12)

I don't think it'll happen in India anytime soon how many million smartphones in India now Nikhil?

[Speaker 3] (34:12 - 34:13)

600 million

[Speaker 1] (34:14 - 34:24)

that's your vote base because they all are watching stuff I think all eyeballs are going to be through the phone now so you'll have to be a creator if you want massively like that

[Speaker 2] (34:24 - 34:30)

I think it'll happen in a 30 million population but by that logic I would've assumed more TVs in India

[Speaker 3] (34:30 - 34:36)

than smartphones or access to TV so I would've thought TV actors would've become politicians but that time is changing I mean

[Speaker 4] (34:36 - 34:41)

film actors became politicians yeah we had Bollywood kind of going that way not

[Speaker 3] (34:41 - 34:46)

not truly not in a manner where it moved the needle per se

[Speaker 5] (34:47 - 34:47)

hmm

[Speaker 3] (34:47 - 34:49)

so I've asked

[Speaker 1] (34:49 - 35:00)

some friends of mine from the world of politics this question and by that I don't mean politicians I mean people who work in I don't know how you frame this during the elections they help with

[Speaker 3] (35:00 - 35:01)

bureaucrats

[Speaker 1] (35:01 - 35:59)

no no also bureaucrats advisors, lobbyists but like there's a lot of work that goes behind even carrying out an election and then from the political parties there's a lot of work that goes into swaying the vote in one direction in different constituencies so there is a whole other skill set involved when you're actually beginning that political career in order to win the elections but it's a learnable skill set and I think this content creator thing is actually the bigger skill set about affecting masses I think there's this YouTube channel I've followed for years it's called Charisma on Command it's one of my favorite YouTube channels ever highly recommended it's about social skills and it's about media skills I think so much of media's communication and what people understand from the words you're saying they analyze Trump and I think most people know this about Trump now but he would say very basic things repeatedly that's actually what content is in the long term when people think of your brand as a content creator they'll associate certain words with you like with me I know it's positivity

motivation

[Speaker 3] (36:00 - 36:08)

Beard Biceps is my favorite YouTube channel that's interesting what is it with you guys? what is your narrative of you you're trying to put together?

[Speaker 4] (36:08 - 36:09)

of me?

[Speaker 1] (36:11 - 36:32)

that I'm generally curious you can't fake it the thing is if you're a regular creative especially if you're going to be consistent you can't fake it so my strategy would be what am I naturally curious about and just turn that into content because it automatically makes the most authentic version of you go out but you can't fake who you are

[Speaker 4] (36:32 - 36:33)

at least not for very long

[Speaker 1] (36:33 - 36:38)

but you can control showing people how much of you like you can do that

[Speaker 2] (36:38 - 36:55)

is that accurate? yeah especially in podcasts it's impossible after one hour of podcast this is who you really are yeah that's why presidents really don't go on podcasts more than one hour or two hours it becomes the third hour that's where you make the mistakes that's why Nikhil

[Speaker 1] (36:55 - 36:56)

shoots for like six

[Speaker 2] (36:56 - 36:58)

but tell me this each of us

deep down are completely different not completely but slightly different from what we project because we all are darker right? I think any philosopher would say Machiavelli used to say this a prince needs to project A, B, C, D, E but he actually has to be something else like being generous I'll take one of the examples like being generous for a prince or a king is not a good thing because if you're a king and generous people get accustomed to your generosity and they forget the world before that and then you have to increase taxes to continue to be generous and when you do that they go after you

so

as a king you need to be a completely different thing but you need to project a bunch of things you know virtuous moralistic generosity ritualistic religious these are things when you project upon a society that resonates with you the odds of you staying in power for longer are probably higher so when you say authentic do you mean truly authentic or do you mean this mask that you're projecting which is slightly authentic but not authentic enough to get you to trouble

interesting so I like to think of it as you know if you're playing FIFA and you select a character you have like seven attributes show up so the digital version of authentic would be what are some of the attributes that are actually true right and those are the ones you choose to project because that's what's that's what's closest version of you but you can't truly be fully authentic that's a that's a suicide

that gets you into trouble

[Speaker 1] (38:38 - 38:44)

100% because nobody's fully clean and unfortunately when you gotta be when you gotta be public

[Speaker 3] (38:44 - 38:49)

I think clean is the wrong word I feel like every human has different personalities

[Speaker 2] (38:49 - 39:38)

A side and B side he has the outside and he has the shadow side I've met hundreds of creators and I think you guys can relate to this you see their content and then you meet them and actually the thing that surprised me the most is that most creators are extroverted in the camera they're very excited they're very energetic but when you meet them they're like in the corner just by themselves like not talking to anybody they're like wait is this the same person so I think that yeah you're right there's still extroversion versus introversion most creators are actually introverted that I realize which is shocking they only like talking to a camera they don't like talking to humans so there there is a dissonance there is a difference between what you see on YouTube and what you see in real life and I would even argue that we're all a bit more than what we make our videos about oh 100% yeah so you're saying in summary

[Speaker 3] (39:38 - 39:46)

there is a young creator young wannabe creator content creator nice spider man

[Speaker 4] (39:47 - 39:48)

spidey senpai

say a young 20 year old wannabe entrepreneur trying to build distribution through content creation what we're saying is he has to be authentic but to the extent that is acceptable in the societal norms that he lives under and he still has to do one or two things to resonate with the audience there has to be authenticity but not not beyond the point but Nikhil

isn't that true for everything isn't that true for anytime you are effectively speaking to an audience be it as an entrepreneur talking to a thousand employees in the company I think anytime there is a major public interaction there is a degree of performance that almost is uncontrollable it just comes out even if you're not

speaking to anybody why do people dress up yeah why do you put your nicest clothes because you want to show a different version of who you really are why do people put makeup on that's human nature I think so we shouldn't blame it on the creators for being different in front of an audience yeah for sure

[Speaker 1] (40:54 - 40:58)

I mean no one's blaming Nikhil is just delving into the human side

[Speaker 5] (40:59 - 40:59)

no no no

[Speaker 1] (40:59 - 41:19)

I have a compass I follow when it comes to this authenticity thought in my head is that the larger the quantity of content that you release the closer you get to your actual authenticity but ideally you shouldn't go to 100% because of the second point which is that everything you say should be true but not everything

[Speaker 3] (41:19 - 41:49)

that's true should be said you got a lot of hate right like recently and I've tried to like I know Ranveer for a long time I know Ranveer from a few years ago when he was younger and I remember him interviewing me or doing a podcast we did one together and I was like this guy is so good he organically has a way to put you put you so at ease that you're so comfortable talking to him and he's

[Speaker 1] (41:49 - 41:50)

agreed

and he's always been such a nice guy through and through when people were saying so much crap about him I was like you know I called him up I do call him up and I say you know don't take this to heart like if somebody is making the effort to look up Ranveer search him on Twitter and then go there

and write a comment

[Speaker 3] (42:09 - 42:19)

but how do you put up with that that's a big part of being a content creator I'll give you the 100% honest answer I went through a shithole of a phase in engineering college

[Speaker 1] (42:19 - 42:26)

and it just blew all the emotions out of me and like I was just left emotionless by the end of engineering college that's not true

[Speaker 4] (42:26 - 42:28)

you're an emotional guy you're very emotional

maybe I can compartmentalise it well but I'll tell you there's been two phases where hate has affected me the first time was when I first had a viral video like an all out national viral video where I spoke about Amir Khan Amir Khan and Amir Khan you know Amir Khan he had a big fitness transformation and at that point oh yes I made a video about how it's probably not completely natural oh wow and it was just it was a suggestive video but that's the first time I blew up as a fitness content creator the second time was fairly recently where so I've been cancelled a lot on twitter over the last

like since covid began does it get easier? yeah what do you do?

like these young people we are encouraging to build distribution to sell the brands they later create they will get cancelled yeah so is it best to like shut up when you're getting cancelled and ignore it? what is like a tip? it's too subjective because the cancelling sometimes it's truly your fault and if it is

you should like address it yeah but I also want to push back against the word cancel there's no such thing as cancel you cannot be cancelled on the internet the algorithm has no emotions you think the algorithm is like right wing or left wing it doesn't care you create content it's interesting enough it shows it to people so you can say you're cancelled but you come back next video and you get the same number of views if not more the question is what do you do when there's pushback from the audience and the way you should look at it is pushback is the most positive thing that can happen to you as a creator if you get cancelled or pushed back you have cracked it yes you are finally relevant enough to hate it's very subjective

the opposite of love isn't hate it's indifference

[Speaker 2] (44:12 - 44:13)

yeah exactly

[Speaker 1] (44:13 - 44:15)

the opposite of love

[Speaker 3] (44:15 - 44:15)

is indifference

[Speaker 1] (44:15 - 44:15)

is that true?

[Speaker 3] (44:15 - 44:16)

yes very true

people again we're using the word cancelled because of a lack of other words to describe that situation where you're receiving a tsunami of criticism on the internet now it boils down to who you are subjectively on the inside as a content creator are you someone who'll absorb all of it and feel bad about it or are you someone who'll absorb all of it take the feedback and then improve your content for me my game has always been quantity you need to know your own game and your own strengths as a content creator I'm not the smartest not the most creative creator but I can create a huge amount of content that amount is good enough for you to show your improvement show that you absorb the feedback and eventually those same people who've been pissed off with you for that one thing will say okay we've noticed now that you've corrected your mistakes and admitted to doing the wrong and in some cases where if you don't agree with what you're being cancelled for don't respond

people need to understand another thing is that creators are change makers when you make a video you are affecting change in the world every time you want to change something there is resistance if I try to change the location of this cup there is resistance of the cup towards my change if you try to change a country there is resistance that's why every politician in the world gets death threats because they are the ones

[Speaker 3] (45:33 - 45:33)

who are making the most change

[Speaker 2] (45:33 - 45:34)

is that something

[Speaker 3] (45:34 - 45:43)

a creator should actively do if he is anti let me not say establishment but anti public opinion he gets more traction

[Speaker 2] (45:43 - 45:49)

you will get more yes you will get more traction if you are that so is that a hack like you look at in general

[Speaker 1] (45:49 - 45:52)

extreme opinions will get more traction yeah

[Speaker 2] (45:52 - 45:55)

the hope is that your extreme opinion is not bad

[Speaker 3] (45:55 - 46:11)

why is that like because the negative feedback loop soothes our psyche in some weird manner if everybody is saying a certain restaurant is good and if you were to go online and say this restaurant is shit crap don't go there bad bad bad

[Speaker 4] (46:11 - 46:15)

I feel like we also love drama

[Speaker 1] (46:16 - 46:34)

a strong opinion about anything creates a market for the antithesis of that opinion by itself because everyone is online trying to build a brand one of the easiest ways to build a brand is to be contrarian so every single strong opinion

automatically creates the opposite market so unfortunately in social media every year there is roughly like 6 to 7 opportunities to go guaranteed viral guaranteed any video you make about a topic it will go viral unfortunately a lot of people utilize that just to get attention for example Israel and Palestine right now anybody make a pro-Palestine video I guarantee you millions of views a few years ago there were wildfires in Australia anybody that made any video about that there was protests in Bangladesh anybody farmers protests in India these are all opportunities for content creators to get attention even if they don't care about the topic just take a contrarian view

this is not just the content creator this is everyone Nikhil every single person

[Speaker 2] (47:18 - 47:36)

this is not the contrary they're saying if everyone is saying we need to protest with the farmers for example which I didn't understand what it was about you will get the views you will become famous in those 6 chances every year and I've seen people who know nothing about Indian politics or local Indian affairs just like Rihanna oh

that's the one

[Speaker 2] (47:39 - 47:43)

now I remember Rihanna was like I'm with the Indian I was like what does Rihanna know about this

[Speaker 1] (47:43 - 47:47)

yeah but it became cool to say that it became cool to say that right now

has it become cool to say pro-Palestinian stuff it's become cool why is that because there's 2 billion Muslims in the world and now the minute you promote or you support this topic every Muslim will want to support you as well so you'll see that tribalism happen even if people don't know the intricacies of this very complicated conflict which I'm part of for 75 years if things were this easy man it would have been solved I want to understand like I've heard every side that we don't have enough hours in this podcast for this

no give us a brief history

[Speaker 2] (48:24 - 48:34)

of you you're an Arab you're an Arab Israeli so I'm I'm Israeli Palestinian explain where were you born

[Speaker 3] (48:34 - 48:37)

start from the beginning this this I'm curious about

genuinely what a fascinating story yeah look when people look at Israel they think a country for Jewish people what they don't understand is that 20% of that country is not Jewish and what they don't understand is when Israel came to existence there were other people living there and some people left some people got kicked out some people died and some people stayed inside so my ancestors are the ones who stayed under Israel so one day we woke up we're like okay we're Israeli citizens okay so there were a certain number of Jews there there were a certain number

[Speaker 3] (49:09 - 49:10)

of Arabs

[Speaker 5] (49:10 - 49:10)

correct

[Speaker 3] (49:11 - 49:19)

all of these were the West Bank Gaza Golan Heights everything in between yeah was one country did it have a border it was

[Speaker 2] (49:19 - 49:35)

was it a sovereign nation was it one no there was there was the British Empire after the British left it was a British mandate and then before that it was the Ottomans so it's very complicated to like actually say oh there was one country here but there were actual people living there

[Speaker 3] (49:35 - 49:39)

the land that belonged to the Palestinians in my naive

[Speaker 2] (49:39 - 49:40)

yes

[Speaker 3] (49:40 - 49:48)

the little bit of information from the few books I've read kind of information the landmass that they had has been consistently going down with time for the average person who doesn't want to go to the details there was 11 opportunities for peace and they were squandered for different reasons sometimes it was Israel's fault and many times it was Palestine's fault right but eventually the leaders in these positions have come to realize it is more popular to wage a war than to wage peace in the Middle East more politicians died from making peace than from making war explain I'm going to say that again interesting more politicians died from making peace than from making war Sadat made peace with Israel the Egyptian guy Egyptian president made peace with Israel got assassinated Rabin in Palestine made peace wanted to make peace got assassinated why why why the algorithm wants war the algorithm wants war I mean eventually an extremist will come and be like oh this politician is going to end my struggle which is my struggle for a whole country and they're going to only settle for half I'm going to kill them while if a politician wages war it's like oh yeah this politician is standing for what I want so that's when I realized oh my god that's why North Korea is like will always stay North Korea if the president tries to do anything different he's the first to be assassinated so assassinated by by people in North Korea who want to keep the status quo basically the people who have gained affluence

gained proximity to that person something like that something like that

and eventually in a nutshell as much as we all want peace peace is a very politically risky move and that's why in the last week no one is calling for peace because it's also risky for content creators I made a video calling for peace a week ago and I got 100 death threats why did I get 100 death threats for calling for fing peace because this is the time to call for justice for war for getting back what we deserve and all that stuff the algorithm wants war that to me encapsulates but the human algorithm exactly the human algorithm wants justice

[Speaker 1] (51:53 - 51:54)

the algorithm is very human

[Speaker 2] (51:54 - 51:55)

the algorithm is basically

[Speaker 1] (51:55 - 51:57)

telling you what people want

[Speaker 2] (51:57 - 51:57)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (51:57 - 52:09)

I love like I love and respect and admire just Nusair being able to talk about this with this much compassion because I don't know if I have the courage given where you know what he has been through

[Speaker 2] (52:09 - 52:50)

and what he might go through to bring it back to content creators this is why we need content creators who are able to say what they really want to say even if it costs them their life yes you can create content and make money you can create content and build a business but the point of content creation is as you said social change we must change the narrative on Muslims on Jews on Israel and Palestine on India Pakistan I think that's why we're all here but there's a different kind of content creator who wants to entertain and that is also good too so ask yourself do you want to be a content creator to build a business to entertain or to educate how far do you think the first content creator assassination is?

[Speaker 2] (52:54 - 53:04)

I think it probably already happened to a female content creator somewhere in the world I think it did happen but the point he made is so relevant

[Speaker 3] (53:04 - 53:20)

I feel like with a corporation disseminating news they're bound to be biased in one form or another I think the role of a content creator in getting their actual story out is so incredibly important for the world yeah

[Speaker 1] (53:20 - 53:55)

it's independent thought needs to be encouraged but I also think that look it's easy to say that everybody should be able to voice their opinion but voicing your opinion is A.

not necessarily the best thing for business which most let's be honest most content creators are in the pursuit of being brand friendly enough that they can make a living that they can make a living but I also say that you want to be king first before you become a philosopher right

like Shahrukh Khan

[Speaker 1] (53:56 - 54:34)

like Shahrukh Shahrukh said this right so you want to feel secure financially before you're able to voice your thought very very publicly at least this is what I have maintained that I think if I feel extremely secure financially actually the thing that you're buying by making money is freedom to express yes if I'm able to divide my revenue income from what I say publicly that's the ideal world this is why I agree with Nusair when he says that if you build distribution you want to build businesses under it so you have an infrastructure around you that can continue to exist without being dependent on what the comment section

says about you such a good point and I want to give this advice to anybody that's starting content brands are not your friends brands are not your friends brands are the first to chicken out when you get cancelled when you get pushed back I lost a couple of brand deals in the last month I'm sure you lost a brand deal in your life we've all lost brand deals in life, yeah, lots because of something you said Prajakta, you too?

[Speaker 3] (54:59 - 55:01)

not yet have you ever been cancelled or pushed back?

[Speaker 4] (55:03 - 55:04)

no

[Speaker 2] (55:04 - 55:09)

if you have to think that long it's a no so maybe this is the time say something

[Speaker 4] (55:09 - 55:41)

oh lord but I was talking to Tanmay about this and I agreed to what he said about the whole opinion bit of it what I was telling him I was like I'm so nervous about this because a lot of times I'm so unaware and there are so many things that I'm constantly kind of educating myself because it's a huge world when you put yourself out there you know like there's a lot of expectations of comments about so many things that especially in a country like ours where it's such a mix of people with different likes and different kind of content that you watch and different issues that we're kind of living with

[Speaker 1] (55:41 - 55:43)

it's like 15 countries in a comment section

[Speaker 4] (55:43 - 56:25)

it's so mixed so for someone like me I'm terrible at multitasking if I'm doing one thing I'm literally not watching anything else I'm not reading anything else I'm not educating myself about anything else like for example right now I'm writing a book and that's all I'm doing I'm so unaware about so many things which is why this is a very informative conversation for me because I now have context to a lot of things which I should have because I understand the responsibility that comes from being someone who speaks out and who has impact so that is something that I'm constantly working on so I feel like for someone like me it is a tough space when it comes to having that opinion

so if I was a brand I would throw all my money at you as they have because you are so safe I can associate with you and you'll never be cancelled for saying something stupid about Israel and Palestine so that's why this is a good strategy actually to build a good business unfortunately we have a big mouth and so I've realized that now that I've lost a million dollars from making that video from a brand deal community is the one thing that will stick with you no matter what you say so now I'm building only community based businesses that's I think

is the future

Give me an example of what you mean by community Community based business is basically I want to make my money not from a brand that gives me 100,000 dollars to make a video whatever I want to make my money from selling a product to the people that follow me everywhere around the world for example it's Nas Travels so we're creating this group trips product where we take you on a trip to Ecuador to see Ecuador for a week together so even if I get cancelled by a brand a person buying my product in Colombia does not care

that actually makes sense

[Speaker 2] (57:31 - 57:34)

yeah are you doing that too?

[Speaker 1] (57:34 - 57:50)

yeah I'm working on building businesses that can leverage the distribution that I have and I think this is a good strategy for every creator especially if I mean a lot of creators who aren't in the entertainment section usually already have this built in like

you know

Sharan for example has already thought of it a lot of folks who are into education have a tech to follow on but it's usually folks in the entertainment section that kind of have to think about well what is the business that I'm going to build because my whole business is I'm going to play an ad in the middle of entertaining you so one of my natural instincts was I love writing content and I've written comedy my whole life so writing advertising marketing that sort of stuff came naturally to me I moved to Bangalore I realized that oh there's a there's a big section here that could do with some of my advice and so I started you know advising startups and that sort of thing but this is super useful advice and I think Nusair is the king of this Nusair has done such a good job like no one understands video like him so now he produces video and it's a playbook that he taught his company and now this company can scale for him so tomorrow if a brand doesn't work Nusair is still okay and I think this I truly believe that everyone should be making content because it teaches you sales across the board and really what do you need to be successful

[Speaker 3] (58:50 - 58:53)

Is that making content at the end of the day? Yes Learning how to make sales?

[Speaker 1] (58:53 - 59:21)

Yes Marketing? If I were hiring for marketing if there was a kid who could take an Instagram page from 0 to 10,000 that kid is killer most CMOs don't know how to do this most CMOs would not know where to spend money to make this happen in fact people who are in marketing jobs at brands what they're truly doing is exercising the judgment on what's good or not they're spending dollar on making a decision how do you know what's good or not if you haven't done it 20 times over and seen what's good or not

[Speaker 5] (59:21 - 59:22)

so I truly

[Speaker 1] (59:22 - 59:29)

think most people who make content today if you have this experience for 10 years there is a very good marketing job at the end of it

do you think that's another pathway?

100% we thought of build influence distribution start a business fashion, restaurant, SaaS, software, whatever sell another part could be build distribution get hired?

yes build distribution get hired in fact I think like Nusair mentioned earlier there's going to be a whole batch of creators who you know who after 5 years of traction realized that this might not happen marketing is a super interesting and useful career that they can get into almost immediately because they know

more than most marketers very interesting before we get into the influencer influencer parts broadly we haven't gotten into it

[Speaker 1] (1:00:12 - 1:00:14)

there's a reason why this goes on

content creator economy how big is it?

[Speaker 1] (1:00:19 - 1:00:44)

in 2021 I remember this number there was this whole article about how the creator economy has added 10,000 crores to the Indian GDP it's contributed 10,000 crores to the Indian GDP I don't you would be a better person to break that down what I understand is it's created that kind of employment that kind of influencer marketing spends et cetera

we've been in

[Speaker 1] (1:00:45 - 1:00:54)

this space for eight years Tanmay's been in it longer we've constantly seen an increase in influencer marketing rates

as long as you stick to the game that's where I anticipate it's going but the space itself you started the very beginning of it this whole space is 10 years it's a 10 year industry and I think there's an article last week that said it is a 250 billion dollar economy now what people need to understand is that all these numbers are meaningless nobody cares what they should have conviction of is that we are 1% of the way there in the creator economy this is as new as AI so let's assume

the size is 100 billion that's what the global size people say we'll assume India is lesser because the rate per clicks how much money you can make out of views is significantly lower would you say 1 5th 1 10th

[Speaker 1] (1:01:39 - 1:01:41)

it's 1 10th

[Speaker 2] (1:01:41 - 1:01:41)

exactly 1 10th

[Speaker 1] (1:01:41 - 1:01:46)

I mean my YouTube ad revenue CPMs would say even worse

[Speaker 2] (1:01:46 - 1:01:59)

no because I have international audience and I can segment based on country so if I get 1,000 views 1,000 dollars from American audience I get 100 dollars from Indian audience can you break down the 10,000 crore thing what does it mean

[Speaker 3] (1:01:59 - 1:02:31)

I would say see I know a little bit about the influencer marketing world I have a company called co-fluence I have invested in I think the amount of money brands are spending on purely social media influencers because you can extrapolate and everybody is an influencer if your profession is social media influencer like you for example I would assume that number is between 1,500 2,000 crores a year and growing by 30 40 percent

[Speaker 1] (1:02:31 - 1:02:38)

2,000 crores so effectively you're saying that 2,000 crores is the advertising pool for influencers yeah

[Speaker 3] (1:02:38 - 1:02:40)

that's how much money

[Speaker 2] (1:02:40 - 1:02:41)

I'm a t-shirt

[Speaker 3] (1:02:41 - 1:02:48)

maker I give Tanmay 50 lakhs to promote my t-shirt I'm talking about things like that purely that's 10

[Speaker 2] (1:02:48 - 1:02:49)

percent of the economy

[Speaker 3] (1:02:49 - 1:02:49)

yeah

[Speaker 2] (1:02:49 - 1:02:56)

that's 90 percent which is community commerce creators making money from their followers that's even

[Speaker 3] (1:02:56 - 1:02:56)

smaller

well I think it's going to get much bigger than brands but today I don't think it's very big but in India maybe because in India maybe the audience does not buy so you rely a lot on brands maybe that's the culture here in India but in America you're making much more money from your community than you're making from a brand everything that happens in America always takes 5 years to get to India this has been the one outlaw golden lesson I've learnt in my content creation career not too necessarily in this case give me a second okay give me 30 seconds it happens in every industry to a large degree but in media I've noticed that this happens very very heavily

[Speaker 4] (1:03:40 - 1:03:40)

no no

[Speaker 1] (1:03:40 - 1:03:53)

you're talking cultural trends but the simple fact is India is a DAU farm of the world and when you're a low ARPU country let me just explain that what I mean by low ARPU

[Speaker 3] (1:03:53 - 1:03:54)

what is DAU farm?

[Speaker 1] (1:03:54 - 1:04:32)

DAU means daily active user farm of the world what this means is that Netflix will launch in India but Netflix makes the most amount of money per subscriber around the world but for their investors they're like we have 20 million customers 30 million customers from India so that looks impressive on a global earnings call this is why I think we're far away from a US market and it's not just 5 years away because the degree to which you can monetize your audience is directly related to how affluent your audience is and India unfortunately is a low ARPU country we are a

developing economy

[Speaker 1] (1:04:33 - 1:04:49)

ARPU is revenue per user so how much money can you extract from per user this is true across platforms true across creators Facebook ARPU in India is way lower just like Snapchat just like Netflix all of that so no India is not just 5 years

away it's when the whole economy prospers no no no that is the pessimistic view the optimistic view the optimistic view let's all be optimistic people here want to become creators is that in India people maybe are not used to buying something on the internet that is digital but they are used to spending a lot of money on physical experiences for example tomorrow a thousand tickets sold $77 per ticket I just missed $77,000 from India audience purely India audience so there is it depends on what they would spend what's the product India spends very highly on

[Speaker 3] (1:05:28 - 1:05:29)

physical

[Speaker 2] (1:05:29 - 1:05:31)

experiences

[Speaker 1] (1:05:31 - 1:05:33)

we spend very highly on education what is

[Speaker 3] (1:05:33 - 1:05:34)

products that give you hope for a state that you want to be in so we do I mean influencers make so much money right financial products will make a lot of money in India products that either save you money or make you more money will make a lot of money products that save you time don't necessarily make that much money which is why courses tech courses will do really well in India products that will give you higher status because higher status leads to higher mating success those make a lot more money

give me an example cred

[Speaker 1] (1:06:08 - 1:06:24)

cred for example okay higher status is we spend a lot of money on fancy weddings wedding wear right that's a higher status thing we are less likely to use like we want discounts on Uber rides because we're not we don't care so much about saving 20 minutes

so India has a lot of money it's just people think a product that does well in America will do well in India but actually it needs to be Indianified almost a different product needs to be sold here

[Speaker 1] (1:06:35 - 1:07:00)

I mean it's always been the compass I've followed in terms of deciding where I want to take my content as well as the next business moves because as content creators we don't have reference points in India like the reference point I'm using as a content creator in India one it used to be like you like at the start of my career now it's a little bit of Baba Ramdev because he's the original influencer of this country

interesting

[Speaker 1] (1:07:01 - 1:07:04)

like I mean he influenced Baba to give have you heard

[Speaker 2] (1:07:04 - 1:07:12)

of Baba Ramdev you've heard of his brand Patanjali I'm like 20% Indian at this point I know a lot of the references Nateshwar

[Speaker 5] (1:07:14 - 1:07:15)

that I don't

[Speaker 1] (1:07:15 - 1:07:29)

understand yeah I mean Patanjali was Merch yeah Merch you learn trust over a very long period of time have you tried selling merch for me my merch is digital

[Speaker 2] (1:07:29 - 1:07:44)

it's my meditation app called level supervisor by the way actually when we met in Davos you were wearing a sweater and the sweater was so interesting that it should put in a picture got so many likes that the sweater ended up selling out at this shop

[Speaker 4] (1:07:44 - 1:07:48)

yeah I should have worn my merch so there is

[Speaker 2] (1:07:48 - 1:07:53)

money in merch in India is there not in merch necessarily

[Speaker 4] (1:07:53 - 1:07:54)

but not many people who have

[Speaker 3] (1:07:54 - 1:07:58)

started influencer led brands have done well

[Speaker 1] (1:07:58 - 1:07:58)

yeah

[Speaker 3] (1:07:58 - 1:08:04)

I would say the failure rate is 80-90% okay I'll tell you what I learnt off of this meditation app

[Speaker 1] (1:08:05 - 1:09:19)

this is going to be a slightly long answer basically we got a huge boost when the app launched and then it started trailing off a little bit long story short I figured that now there is too much distribution built out this is in 2021 we're doing content content is going well we're getting growth but it's time to create a product at this point I always wanted to do something in the health space eventually we created an app with both physical fitness as well as what I term as mental fitness which was a bunch of guided meditations guided sleep stories etc always wanted to bootstrap it when we launched we got a massive response thanks to Be Your Myself's distribution and it gradually started declining a little bit over time even if we spoke about it in every episode what I decided to do at that stage was we went from two episodes a week to four episodes a week now for some reason this hacked the YouTube algorithm and my stuff started getting shown not just to people who subscribe to you yeah but way more I don't know what happened

short video is that still as relevant how many times you post exponentially takes up your audience it depends on the content I think I also caught the podcast trend in the country

[Speaker 1] (1:09:29 - 1:09:39)

so instead of my subscriber rate my monthly subscriber rate should have just doubled but I think it went something like four times

[Speaker 5] (1:09:39 - 1:09:39)

yeah it went

[Speaker 1] (1:09:39 - 1:09:51)

vertically I just want to double click on this a little bit right so some formats lend itself to higher top of funnel right for example Dhruv Rathee right Dhruv effectively is a modern day news channel

[Speaker 5] (1:09:51 - 1:09:52)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (1:09:52 - 1:09:57)

right so news whatever is dominating the news do you think he's

[Speaker 3] (1:09:57 - 1:10:04)

doing so much he's doing so well because he's taking like we discussed earlier anti narrative I don't think

[Speaker 2] (1:10:04 - 1:10:05)

it's the case with Dhruv I don't think

[Speaker 1] (1:10:05 - 1:10:11)

it's the case with other people but now with Dhruv Dhruv is not extreme as much as just an explainer of what he thinks is going

on more like a Vox

[Speaker 1] (1:10:12 - 1:10:24)

yeah so it's similarly in Ranveer's case you know Ranveer's guests bring in newer audiences each time and Ranveer is able to retain some of them who end up subscribing they're like I want to see more of Ranveer on my timeline because he interviews

a lot of popular guests so if I were new if I were a 20 year old boy starting something out to build distribution how often should I post what duration works today what is the path of least resistance

[Speaker 2] (1:10:39 - 1:10:48)

to get distribution so I think a lot of people in this table make long videos including you and I don't know who the hell is still watching this video you must have a lot of time when you're on your

life okay but the only and the best way to get distribution today is to make YouTube shorts Instagram reels Facebook reels that are 59 seconds exactly which is the one minute guy and I think short content gets you reach and after you get the reach you should go deep by creating the podcast but you shouldn't start by creating a podcast because and you've had 15 years of fame from other places that's why your podcast works but if there's a nobody now starting a podcast unfortunately that's gonna kill their dreams also social media changes extremely do you guys agree with what he said social media changes literally every

six months so but for the last year or so a good beginning has been exactly what I said you make short videos one minute two minutes three minutes

[Speaker 1] (1:11:37 - 1:11:56)

it's easier to get more top of funnel through short video I agree but the holy grail is long form and that's that's the holy grail I want to ask Prajakta actually Prajakta has done both like she's prolific at short video now but you began with with YouTube like what do you think like because you've done both and you now do a lot of the short video stuff

[Speaker 4] (1:11:56 - 1:13:19)

I was actually forced to go to short video when the lockdown started because that is what everybody was doing and that was I think the only time as a creator where I felt like I didn't have an option because it had reached a point where I felt like nobody's watching it nobody has the patience for it nobody wants to spend any money on any more time so that's how it started and I did not expect to like it I was very resistant to short form content I was I was very adamant almost stubborn with saying you know what I don't care if the whole world's gonna make short form content I'm going to stick to I remember talking to Neil when they kind of took funding off YouTube originals I was so upset yeah but I was like I was coming to you with pitches I had things I've been working on I wanted to pitch originals to you and you've taken funding off because you're pushing shorts and that broke my heart but I started having fun with it because then you kind of see it's nice to go from a point of understanding that if I'm making a 20 minute video and my analytics tell me that I lost a huge chunk of my audience at seven seconds and then going and watching like a 20 second video and seeing that oh my god there's that many replays and shares happening so it's it's affirmative but like he said the holy grail is long

form also with long form you're truly building community because you're developing trust because they're getting to know your heart and not just your vision yes but but let me disagree here a little bit it's this is like trying to swim against the tide yeah you must ask yourself where is the tide going if you swim against the tide you can do this and you're still in the same location okay always go with the winds so what is the winds it's basically what does the sea level mean and that's what the global leaders at social media platforms say you should read the earnings report you should read the quarterly calls of Facebook YouTube and Instagram and from listening to the CEOs of the social medias you can guess where the tides are going to go because these guys control the tides and where are they going according so seven years ago I was following Mark Zuckerberg's reports right I was following the quarterly earnings Mark Zuckerberg seven years ago said you know pictures are great but you know I see a future where it's going to be video right so no pictures not a single picture of Nas Daily right what I'm trying to say is the tide makers and the fortune makers are actually humans living in Silicon Valley and in China listen to what they say and then do exactly what

they're saying today

so right now the tick-tock guy is saying shopping on tick-tock is going to be big and live on tick-tock is going to be big so I would probably try that that people at YouTube are saying you know it's YouTube Shorts is going to be the future so I would index on that Facebook or Instagram is saying what are they saying they didn't say anything these days Instagram

is like Metaverse they're saying

[Speaker 2] (1:14:53 - 1:15:06)

Metaverse right so I would keep my eyes open like if I was starting a seven year career now I would probably want to start as like AI creator or a Metaverse creator because in six years you are going to be at the right place at the right time.

[Speaker 3] (1:15:06 - 1:15:10)

Is there a lot more expensive to create content on the Metaverse? Right now? I mean

[Speaker 1] (1:15:10 - 1:15:17)

It's just a camera It's not expensive it's just I think 99% of the people haven't even bought Quest yet

[Speaker 3] (1:15:17 - 1:15:19)

They just haven't tested it out There's like 2 million

[Speaker 5] (1:15:19 - 1:15:20)

people on the world

[Speaker 3] (1:15:20 - 1:15:29)

that can watch it So what we're saying in summary is make Shorts, build distribution then do long form I want to add something experiential here based on my experience selling this meditation app okay we get about three to four million views on any short form video that I create which is usually emotional it caters to the mental health oriented audience to whom my app is also catered to I'm trying to hit the mark I reach that audience for sure because those reels get insane engagement okay I do podcasts like that as well we always get more sales from the podcast like almost we get we get almost no sales from Instagram Yeah I want to just double click on this Nikhil because it's not it's not as it's not as black and white as what Nusha is saying while I fundamentally agree with him think about how you're consuming short form content right you are actually scrolling and something comes across and you see it and that counts as a view to that so when Ranveer gets four million views on a short probably a million of them may be people who actively subscribe to Ranveer whereas the rest of them are just going to watch for 30 seconds and move on which is why affinity to a creator when they watch you for nine minutes straight or 10 minutes straight is a lot higher which is why movement or click-through ratio on links that you provide will be a lot higher than long form so short video is a great way to get to get traction to get traction covered and I would bet on like Dhoni said this recently right and Nusha said this a bit before saying that you don't want to kill your dreams by attempting something so audacious by swimming against the tide what you really want is to start feeling confident as a creator early on in your career which is why short form video is effective for you to start that is why yes correct there's different phases in your life one is you're a nobody everybody starts out of nobody we were all nobodies 10 years ago correct so when you're a nobody your number one goal is to be discovered you get discovered through shorts then your number one goal is to build a community so you make longs then your number one goal is to build a business so you build a business the number

one goal is to start feeling confident that you can be a creator like Dhoni said I said yeah that you want to bet on a guy who's confident about himself then necessarily someone who's more talented because you can be very talented but be under confident but you're not gonna be effective so as a creator I would I would push for try and get that one video to pop so you feel like you can do this because

nothing is as

[Speaker 1] (1:17:37 - 1:17:49)

the harsh truth is that this industry especially when it comes to money is heavily dependent on the views you're generating be it long form or short form just figure out how to get the views first and foremost then you can like go through the nooks and crannies of it

I also feel like when you start off you it takes some time as a newer creator to grasp the idea that it's a very long game yeah it's not something that's going to start give you overnight virality and then your life's set and you're gonna have businesses and a community and stuff like that so I feel like if you're starting off why what they're saying is important is because for you personally it's extremely important for you to feel like you have it and you to keep going to reach a point where you will be able to make a community

people kind of talk about the downsides of content creation they don't know the true picture of it and in its core it's a chef's job you're serving food constantly and people will forget you after like a month of you releasing okay so just to summarize we first learned that every seven years typically a creator life changes and you have to use that time to monetize build something which is outside of creation we spoke about short form is a good way to build traction initially before moving on to long form yeah listen to what the CEO of Tiktok, Facebook, Twitter are saying 100% hear their earning calls and try to figure out where they might be going to next yeah now what are the low hanging fruits like he also said Nas said at some point that these six opportunities in a year where by taking the contrarian opinion you could have a hack to building distribution I'm not suggesting anyone should do it but that's one hack now I'm starting today my name is Nikhil I'm 20 years old I want to build a business selling t-shirts in two years I don't want to go the traditional route of performance marketing because that skews up my numbers and I'll never make money that way I need to build distribution to sell much what kind of content do I start creating today low hanging fruit

yeah I want to go first here I think at the heart of either long form or short form is viewer retention at the heart of it even if it's short form the videos that perform the best are ones which has highest viewer retention average view duration on that short has to be high and if you notice every major trend on Instagram every major filter every trend that comes around is basically hinging on what happens what's the reveal at the end right be it the thing on the top of your head saying which what movie star are you it goes around for a bit and at the end of it you'll get the answer why is it like that because it's trying to get you to watch towards the end so even with short form like stuff like three things to three things to keep an eye on when you're making a wardrobe number three number two number one a small hack for example you people want to stick to number one and that's how you get people to watch till the end number one will blow your mind that's how people begin videos yeah at the heart of it get people to watch till the end that's gonna get that

that's the format right the question you need to ask yourself is when it comes to the content what do I have access to that nobody else in the world has access to that's the question what do I know better than anybody around my friends yes what do I what what is my unique access right

so what is that answer for you so for me right I was like okay I'm a software engineer but a lot of my friends have access to like engineering actually what I have access to is the world I have access to Kenya I have access to Ethiopia because I have money to travel I have a good passport I have access to the world while a lot of people in India or a lot of people in Pakistan a lot of people in my hometown country don't have access to the world so what I'm gonna do is I'm gonna go show you Ethiopia and so my unique value to you is it's not it's not my beauty it's not my looks it's I'm gonna show you the world I'm gonna make a travel with me for free while you're pooping in the bathroom and I'm showing you Ethiopia for one minute so that's access so question is what is access you have access that nobody has access to what makes you unique

what's unique is a

[Speaker 2] (1:21:47 - 1:21:48)

comedic sense comedic

[Speaker 1] (1:21:48 - 1:21:49)

sense so I know how to

[Speaker 2] (1:21:49 - 1:21:51)

make people laugh so I

[Speaker 1] (1:21:51 - 1:22:11)

take that to any genre that I that I go to naturally another thing I just want to add to what I've said while what you have Andrew woman is a great example he has access to neurological data from right now so yeah so he's able to he's able to talk about that you're special in that one thing that everybody cares about the second aspect is do people care about do people care about

you'd be surprised that everybody in the world cares about yeah yeah even t-shirt manufacturing you could get millions of views if you make a good piece of content on how a t-shirt is made you can but as a long term plan it's what you have access to and what the world cares about that's your marriage

[Speaker 4] (1:22:28 - 1:22:29)

exactly that's the

[Speaker 1] (1:22:29 - 1:22:54)

marriage exactly and the second thing I want to add there is like this is great what Nisar said is true but how you make your shit and how scalable it is determines how tired you get over over a 10 year timeline right so in my case I'm lucky that I'm able to make humor out of anything so I'm able to jump genres and be able to scale a lot more easily but it's harder to scale when you're traveling that's why I

stopped that for seven years because you can't travel to Ethiopia anymore I'm tired you know and I can't keep watching Ethiopia while

[Speaker 1] (1:22:59 - 1:23:01)

[Speaker 5] (1:23:01 - 1:23:03)

I'm pooping what do you

have access to I think for me and it took me some time to realize that because like when I said when I started making content I didn't make it with any sort of plan it wasn't conscious I didn't know what I was doing it took me a very long time to figure out what my place as a creator was I was very very inspired by what Lily was doing at that time so that was again a route that was set for a female content creator starting off in comedy doing what AIB was doing was a route that was set I understood that oh I can make like songs and I can make sketches and stuff like that so a lot of it and is why I said in the beginning is it was so important for our creator journey to have a player like AIB ahead of us was because a lot of it was really just adapting as I kept going because I was just winging it for a very very long time I was making shit up as I was going if you asked me where do I see myself like if you asked me five years ago where I saw myself I had no clue I didn't also expect the economy to be what it is and today

what do you have

[Speaker 4] (1:24:05 - 1:24:21)

access to I think right now I've come to realize that what I have access to is that I can tell really mundane stories and make it interesting through sketches through the storytelling that I'm doing right now through even if it's a story of me working out it's would you put sketches in the depiction category if you're able to depict something in artistic manner that's a USP for yeah I think

[Speaker 4] (1:24:30 - 1:24:32)

storytelling for me commentary on society

[Speaker 3] (1:24:32 - 1:24:38)

and what makes you work because that's not really access in a manner right why is

just access of talent to perform in multiple ways you can act you can dance I write and for the person watching this you can tell if you have access to that or not based on how entertained you keep your five friends yeah I'm assuming before this but I only

have five so you got

[Speaker 2] (1:24:55 - 1:24:59)

that right but I'm assuming before you started content you were like the life of

[Speaker 4] (1:24:59 - 1:25:00)

your five friends right

yeah so that is your first signal that there's something there like when I started Facebook as a normal person my Facebook status update was getting 60 likes and my roommates Facebook status update with it was getting six likes I was like okay yeah if I am 10 times better than my roommate at telling a story there's something there so if somebody's watching this and they're the life of the party of their friends yeah you can have 10 million

followers yeah and I also feel like it gets very confusing when you start off because it's a very singular journey when you start off you are kind of figuring everything out for yourself in a way that also eight years ago nobody knew where this was going unless I'm sure Tanmay knew that was short video

[Speaker 4] (1:25:41 - 1:25:43)

not short video but

[Speaker 5] (1:25:43 - 1:25:44)

like I just in my head

[Speaker 4] (1:25:44 - 1:25:57)

I just feel like you just knew more than I knew back then when I started and because you were doing that already but I just feel like it is it is such a it can get very what do you call it?

[Speaker 1] (1:25:58 - 1:25:59)

Pendulum No when you get

[Speaker 4] (1:25:59 - 1:26:14)

alone suddenly you are isolating it can get very isolating for you so even if you don't exactly know how to pinpoint what you have access to I still feel like it's still not a bad point to start yeah it's I universally agree with the thought that everyone must try creating online yeah

[Speaker 5] (1:26:20 - 1:26:22)

and that gets me to my next point which

is we used to live in a world before this is I think Gary Vee said this before where it's like you're either a doctor or a lawyer choose 20 years ago choose you're a teacher a doctor or a lawyer I said either yeah today we live in the and economy right this is not my idea to be clear then you today you can be a doctor and a teacher you can be a lawyer and a creator and actually creator is the most and job in the world you can literally be teacher waiter seen this play out 100%

so now we're saying not just entrepreneurs but even everyone professionals it's a way for doctors engineers everybody to find clients right

[Speaker 1] (1:27:05 - 1:27:08)

from the guys scoping out ice cream at Baskin Robbins

[Speaker 3] (1:27:08 - 1:27:10)

totally I feel like

[Speaker 1] (1:27:10 - 1:27:13)

that's already happening you know future president yeah

[Speaker 3] (1:27:13 - 1:27:14)

what is what is your

unique access today let me start off with health right like he had access to like interesting humans I've had like seven reinventions over an eight year career so I don't have an exact answer but according to me one is the size of my country's population that's one unique thing I have

how do you have access

[Speaker 1] (1:27:34 - 1:27:38)

to that I can talk in Hindi you can't

[Speaker 5] (1:27:38 - 1:27:39)

fair point

[Speaker 1] (1:27:41 - 1:27:42)

you'll see my Hindi doctor

[Speaker 5] (1:27:43 - 1:27:44)

I don't know

[Speaker 1] (1:27:44 - 1:27:45)

this is Ethiopia

[Speaker 5] (1:27:46 - 1:27:50)

and we're standing on this mountain today

[Speaker 1] (1:27:52 - 1:27:56)

there's a very different pulse in India like of the Indian audiences so

[Speaker 5] (1:27:56 - 1:27:57)

content for them is

very different as compared to content for English audiences and I owe it to this human here who suggested that I begin Hindi content in the first place that's one the second is I think you as a content creator you have to see your own human side also what are you good at as a human being I'm an energetic person so I think I have a good stamina and that's just helped because I truly believe in content it's about quantity over quality after a point

[Speaker 3] (1:28:18 - 1:28:20)

so you figure out how to up your quality

[Speaker 1] (1:28:20 - 1:28:24)

really after a point quantity over quality yeah for me interesting

[Speaker 3] (1:28:25 - 1:28:30)

that's a great tip so whenever you begin even if you're doing one every six months quality hits

[Speaker 2] (1:28:30 - 1:28:33)

no no when you begin it's only quantity game

[Speaker 3] (1:28:33 - 1:28:39)

he's saying quality first then quantity he's saying quality first I have to learn something at least see I'm talking based on my own trajectory I learnt how to create videos you've got to have some quality

[Speaker 1] (1:28:39 - 1:28:43)

[Speaker 2] (1:28:43 - 1:28:53)

no zero quality you should have zero quality at the beginning have you seen day one Nas Daily it's horrible I think that's how all of us feel about all our content but just the ability to frame

to double click on that the more quantity you output the better your quality gets if you're really paying attention so quantity helps the third like strong thing that's worked for me honestly it's a bit of a cliched answer but engineering college because it just taught me how to think of the world

as machines it taught me how to reverse engineer things and now I can learn anything faster than normal but really now the reason I follow you is because you have access to interesting India's most interesting humans that's now

[Speaker 1] (1:29:20 - 1:29:22)

the normal person cannot get access to

[Speaker 2] (1:29:22 - 1:29:24)

that's access for you today that's access for you

[Speaker 1] (1:29:24 - 1:29:24)

today

[Speaker 2] (1:29:24 - 1:29:31)

but actually people should ask themselves whoever is watching this ask yourself what kind of weapon are you are you a machine gun or are you a sniper

how do you know wow

[Speaker 2] (1:29:33 - 1:29:47)

I say the same thing we are brothers from another mother we've done too many panels brother a machine gun is somebody that say if I want to kill the enemy we should get a viral video I shoot 500 bullets and hope something sticks and hits the enemy okay another digression here

[Speaker 2] (1:29:49 - 1:29:50)

wait wait this is

an important idea a sniper

the sniper has one bullet and gets a headshot right so a sniper in this case is somebody who goes and makes a Netflix documentary waits three years puts it in Netflix becomes big Jewish matchmaking or Indian matchmaking that's sniper

[Speaker 3] (1:30:06 - 1:30:07)

is that a thing Jewish matchmaking

[Speaker 2] (1:30:07 - 1:30:19)

yeah that's a sniper creator whoever made that that's a sniper one episode I'm famous around the world a machine gun is a thousand videos in a thousand days a thousand skits a thousand podcasts we're all machine guns

[Speaker 1] (1:30:19 - 1:30:28)

AIB was sniper once a month twice a month boom you're a sniper we're all machine guns you come once a week I'm a machine gun now which is I'm outputting 9-10 videos a month

[Speaker 3] (1:30:28 - 1:30:52)

okay so one digression I wanted to ask you guys psychology states that kids born after the year 94 are very different from us so they don't get driving licenses as much people who are above the age of 18 and are applicable to get a license are not applying as much they don't buy homes as much they don't go on dates

they're not buying homes as much

[Speaker 3] (1:30:53 - 1:31:31)

no they don't go on dates as often and they spend a lot of time on their devices so if the new content creators of today because the younger generation initially adopts content that becomes cool if somebody is starting in the content world today what does he build to cater to this generation this is a very coddled generation right they're more about rights less about contribution these are people born in a post 9-11 world where they grew up not knowing what was going on they know about rights

post truth world now

[Speaker 3] (1:31:32 - 1:31:43)

they've had anti-bullying in school they've been they've not been allowed to go out and play like you remember when we were kids like your parents would tell you come home by 9pm correct like right now

that doesn't

[Speaker 3] (1:31:43 - 1:32:03)

happen anymore right now the kids are totally tracked they have to tell their parents what they're doing at every point of time so this will change the consumers of the content that is getting created today and the people who build from now on have to bear this generation

in mind I mean short video is a direct result of this it's lower attention spans right

[Speaker 3] (1:32:06 - 1:32:09)

is that all I'd break that down a little further

[Speaker 1] (1:32:09 - 1:33:04)

the one human need that stays constant is storytelling the second human need that stays constant that's not spoken about is feeling something extremely emotional something that peaks your emotion a lot and emotion could also be just laughing really hard on Tanmay's reaction videos something that peaks your emotion heavily also this generation like the new the younger people that I've come across the ones that work with me I've seen generally have more problems dealing with loneliness than people our age did it says that there is some kind of vacuum there which I've seen gets filled with emotional content and really raw content which is also why I think podcasts are taking off in the country people want realism there's a fantastic podcast called Untriggered it's something like this but more like chill Gen Z yeah more Gen Z blowing up just consistently catering to the lonely urban Indian because when people listen to it they feel like hey I'm hanging out with my friends

[Speaker 1] (1:33:05 - 1:33:05)

but if these kids

[Speaker 3] (1:33:05 - 1:33:34)

have a lot more time on their devices I'm saying they're not going out and playing because they're on their devices so much more strangely enough another data point here is their their necessity or how they perceive work is 20% lesser than our generation like when we were at their age we were thinking work work work they prioritize healing a lot more and they they are a lot more healing from what from you haven't been injured yet by life to be healed

[Speaker 2] (1:33:34 - 1:33:36)

[Speaker 3] (1:33:36 - 1:33:55)

but the thing is the strange thing is when you tell someone when you teach a kid that if Tanmay says something about me I can let it offend me so much even though he's expressing his point of view that I can have mental trauma because of it and then I can be depressed or one of a hundred different things why me as an example

[Speaker 2] (1:33:55 - 1:34:07)

so I actually kind of have a different opinion I actually don't think today's young kids are like this like hurt and emotion and all that stuff I don't think that actually I feel like they're much stronger

do you think

[Speaker 2] (1:34:08 - 1:34:15)

they get offended a lot no I just think offended people have a bigger voice I don't think the number of offended people are actually

[Speaker 3] (1:34:15 - 1:34:54)

I would agree with that I feel like the ecosystem has changed in such a manner that people take offense not just to what is said to them people take offense to what is happening around them and it affects them in a significantly more significantly deeper manner than it did my generation and people hold on to pain a lot longer because they've been taught and conditioned to believe this generation that I'm talking about that A it is right to get offended B it is good to you know demand for your rights but nobody has ever asked them that what is your contribution to anything for which you're demanding the rights that you expect you should have so I'm looking at the glass I think half full and I'm looking like right here yeah I think that behavior actually does affect change you think naturally we're just gonna have a nice country no it comes from a lot of hard like disagreements and fights but what are you disagreeing about you're disagreeing about things like I don't like this city

[Speaker 3] (1:35:20 - 1:35:23)

I don't like this I don't like when enough

[Speaker 2] (1:35:23 - 1:35:34)

people come out and say I don't like the traffic in Bangalore what's gonna happen that's gonna create some pressure on the city council to fix traffic the question I'm also saying you have a point there but the point I'm trying to make is this person who's complaining about the traffic in Bangalore has become the kind of person that you put him in any ecosystem will spend a lot of time complaining

because the path the path to likes has the least resistance today than it did earlier earlier the path to like to getting likes was through literally getting a fancier job was literally do you would you would want likes in the domains that were accessible to you now just that in today's world you're able to get quicker dopamine hits by saying X Y and Z things as someone said saying you get likes if you're pretty witty or outrageous these are the three quickest paths to like so I don't blame the generation for being that way because that's the quickest path to like

also I feel like a lot of the young people like he said right now because of the loneliness that they are kind of going through a lot more than we did are looking for companionship in causes like I remember a time and I hate to say put it like that but I remember a time where it was cool to talk about depression

[Speaker 3] (1:36:45 - 1:36:46)

now is that time

[Speaker 4] (1:36:46 - 1:36:59)

when it started it was cool to talk about bullying you know there came a time where one person would speak up about it and then everybody would speak up about it and it became the term started getting used so loosely

yeah

[Speaker 4] (1:37:00 - 1:37:01)

therapy speak

[Speaker 5] (1:37:01 - 1:37:02)

became common

[Speaker 4] (1:37:02 - 1:37:11)

yeah like the sensitivity from it kind of went away so I feel like at this point a lot of our young audiences are also looking for these groups and these communities

[Speaker 3] (1:37:11 - 1:37:22)

Prajakta that is my point I am not seeing this trend is a good thing or a bad thing I'm seeing as a content creator beginning today what is a hack to hit this market

[Speaker 2] (1:37:22 - 1:37:23)

okay so okay

[Speaker 5] (1:37:23 - 1:37:24)

and get them to

follow you we have to make a distinction between complaining about something and feeling like a victim about something feeling like a victim I agree with you no one should feel like a victim I'm a victim help me help me for example traffic in Bangalore okay you can either say because of the traffic in Bangalore my mental health is killing me and then I cannot show up to work that's a victim mentality right but you could also be a change maker mentality and say I don't like the traffic in Bangalore because of this and this and this

[Speaker 3] (1:37:50 - 1:37:52)

I agree with you I'm talking about

[Speaker 2] (1:37:52 - 1:37:53)

the victims so maybe we should

[Speaker 3] (1:37:53 - 1:37:56)

and that's happening a lot now I'm wondering

[Speaker 1] (1:37:56 - 1:38:00)

because Nikhil there is there's likes in victimhood

[Speaker 3] (1:38:01 - 1:38:09)

there's likes in victimhood no no but the real question here at the bottom of this is what content do you build to hit this market

[Speaker 2] (1:38:09 - 1:38:13)

because we know this market is there but we shouldn't make content hit this market

[Speaker 3] (1:38:13 - 1:38:14)

no but get them

[Speaker 2] (1:38:14 - 1:38:19)

to resonate with you but people are people are outraging and being victim gets likes

[Speaker 3] (1:38:19 - 1:38:20)

I'll give you

[Speaker 1] (1:38:20 - 1:38:53)

a very 2023 answer this answer would have been different last year and the year before that right now the key to growth is Instagram reels what's working on Instagram reels is emotional content what's working within emotional content is well made content so the bottom line here is that the skill that should be focused on now is how you can become a better video content creator how can it be better looking how can you tell a story in a short amount of time and at the end of your reel do you leave someone feeling like they want more from you or from the story if you want to grow a base on LinkedIn or Twitter you don't need to necessarily make video but if you're outraging

do you think that's the way to resonate with this marketplace

[Speaker 1] (1:38:58 - 1:39:05)

if I'm on social media I'm seeing the best of other people's lives would I not automatically feel like I deserve that too

[Speaker 5] (1:39:05 - 1:39:06)

yes you would

of course you would let me give you an interesting anecdote okay and I'm pretty sure it will check out statistically I'm pretty sure I'm pretty sure of this like if someone does this the attrition rate amongst talent management companies is at its highest it's ever been all right why is that can you explain

what attrition rate

is attrition rate is when people leave a company which is the employees churn now you ask you ask Viraj from monkey you ask Vijay from collective why is that because 20 years ago if I was managing talent for example if I was managing A.R. Rahman right would there be that much envy for A.R. Rahman as a manager I'd look at A.R. Rahman make 3 crore rupees per show I would not have that much envy but today if I'm managing a creator who makes short video or makes sketches on Instagram and this person is taking 10 lakhs per reel how high do you think that envy is it's insanely high right that is why attrition rate is going higher and higher because more managers are managing talent who are doing things that seem a lot more accessible and doable

[Speaker 3] (1:40:06 - 1:40:16)

how do you utilise that if you're a content creator and you know the generation you're creating for is a bit more entitled yeah is a bit more victimised

[Speaker 1] (1:40:16 - 1:40:24)

is a bit more they are alluded by flashy life we already do this why does flexing on the internet get more likes sales 101

[Speaker 3] (1:40:24 - 1:41:10)

you solve for their problems which is this I'll define who I want to solve the problem for I am a 20 year old girl in Bangalore who is going to college not really interested in education that much but going because my parents have drawn that path for me I have 50,000 rupees a month of income I'm earning from some side thing that I'm doing I have 20,000 rupees to spend I have 4 hours a day to consume content I spend 7 hours a day on my cell phone doing ABC this is a different category of people than 5 10 15 20 years ago what kind of content will resonate with this crowd nuanced different from 10 years ago

I think

[Speaker 3] (1:41:11 - 1:41:13)

every creator will have a different answer firstly

[Speaker 1] (1:41:13 - 1:41:49)

I'll tell you my answer these problems are happening with younger people because there's overthinking you solve for their overthinking how? by talking about your own story as a creator this is also personal branding I was also at this stage this is what I did and this is the solution I had that's something that works for me a lot the second thing that I've noticed people want a lot I don't know whether it's an Indian thing or not people are extremely hungry for knowledge and unbiased media like raw media so you throw a bomb of rawness through the podcast and in terms of this overthinking and these emotional problems that's where

[Speaker 3] (1:41:49 - 1:41:50)

I have my Instagram game

[Speaker 4] (1:41:50 - 1:41:53)

but is there only one kind of content that they want to consume?

[Speaker 3] (1:41:53 - 1:41:55)

no no there'd be a bunch of options

[Speaker 2] (1:41:55 - 1:42:15)

I want you guys to tell me what these are this girl we're looking at this girl as a glass not half empty empty we're looking at this girl as somebody who wants to feel entitled who wants to be has terrible opinions this girl actually what she really wants she wants to travel to 50 countries around the world before she's age 30 she wants to be a millionaire before she's 30 she doesn't want to be forced to arrange marriage

[Speaker 2] (1:42:16 - 1:42:38)

go one level deeper why does she want to travel? because it's a human basic desire to be free and experience the world is it validation amongst her peer group a bit more than it was 10 years ago and that's why travel works today?

I think it's a basic human desire I don't think it's validation I don't think it's like I want to travel just to tell my friends I travel I think that's a minority I think independently

everybody wants I think data would prove otherwise that because of social media and posting pics

[Speaker 5] (1:42:43 - 1:42:44)

when you travel

[Speaker 3] (1:42:44 - 1:42:47)

you travel so much more like we're going after the nuance now

[Speaker 5] (1:42:47 - 1:42:48)

we're saying

[Speaker 3] (1:42:48 - 1:42:52)

what can you sell to that girl very Indian thing no no it's also a western thing it's prevalent

[Speaker 1] (1:42:52 - 1:42:53)

outside

[Speaker 3] (1:42:53 - 1:42:59)

in America living in say suburban whatever Mississippi I refuse to believe

[Speaker 2] (1:42:59 - 1:43:01)

people want to travel just to tell their friends

[Speaker 5] (1:43:01 - 1:43:02)

they want to travel not just

[Speaker 2] (1:43:02 - 1:43:09)

but also because it's an added benefit but people want to travel just because they want to travel you know I go to Maldives sometimes

[Speaker 3] (1:43:09 - 1:43:17)

it's very close from Bangalore an hour's flight Chinese couples come to Maldives not to check out Maldives they come there to take pictures

[Speaker 5] (1:43:17 - 1:43:18)

of themselves

[Speaker 3] (1:43:18 - 1:43:28)

because social validation is such a big commodity in China to the extent that who you marry who you date what job you get

[Speaker 2] (1:43:28 - 1:43:32)

all of these kind of like are so correlated to how much social following

[Speaker 3] (1:43:32 - 1:43:32)

you have

[Speaker 2] (1:43:32 - 1:43:39)

but why is this new talk no it's not new because we've been socially validating to each other since we were tribal since we had a tribe and people put different

[Speaker 3] (1:43:39 - 1:43:41)

makeup on their face I'm not saying it's new what I'm saying is

[Speaker 2] (1:43:41 - 1:43:42)

it's the same

[Speaker 3] (1:43:42 - 1:43:52)

I'm saying this category beyond 94-95 these kids are different in this nuanced manner does the content created for them have to change

[Speaker 1] (1:43:52 - 1:43:53)

have to look

[Speaker 3] (1:43:53 - 1:43:53)

look different

[Speaker 2] (1:43:53 - 1:44:23)

my answer is definitely not there's nothing different between somebody born after 94 or somebody born in 1794 we all want social validation we all want to signal to others that we're good that we're pretty that we're whatever even tribes in Papua New Guinea okay there's always that guy who's the best dressed has a feather now you can say look at me by having a nice picture in the Maldives it's easier to say look at me but the fundamentals of humans have not changed in 1994

you know just adding on to what he said and going back to the content bit I remember when we were shooting when Mismatch came to us and we started reading the text the scripts of Mismatch we were shooting it Muskaan who's one of the actors on Mismatch with me we used to keep discussing how this is so similar to the content we watched when I was a teenager like we watched Shararat and we watched Dil Mil Gaye these were TV shows

amazing amazing shows

[Speaker 4] (1:44:49 - 1:44:57)

we watched Sanjeevani what was the one that had Shweta in it

[Speaker 1] (1:44:58 - 1:44:59)

all of them

yeah and we realised that the content that is getting made in 2019 came out on Netflix in 2020 was so similar to what I was watching when I was 12 and 13 right and that came from a whole kind of peak of all the crime dramas all the true crime all slightly darker greyer content so when you speak about all this that maybe has the machinery changed or do we approach a different angle when you're telling these stories I want to hear what you guys have to say about this that how come then a simple piece of content that was very new at the time that it came out because most of the content was very unlike that resonated with an audience that is post 94 but was also something that resonated with us when we were that age

I think broadly first principles thinking when it comes to content creation broadly I agree with Nusair yes broadly I agree fundamentally brains haven't changed brains and the chemical reaction in the brain when you perceive something that hasn't changed

[Speaker 3] (1:46:12 - 1:46:15)

do you think woke content will work more today than it did

[Speaker 1] (1:46:15 - 1:46:37)

100 years ago I was just getting to the nuances some of the nuances you should keep in mind is that the things that are hyper connected world the big difference between 70 94 and now is that we are hyper connected so content moves a lot faster so know that we're in a post truth world we're not in a world where anything gets verified

[Speaker 2] (1:46:37 - 1:46:39)

but we always were in a post truth world

[Speaker 1] (1:46:39 - 1:46:59)

so this is the nuance from today which is that shit gets boring a lot quicker as opposed to 70 94 tricks get older a lot quicker as opposed to 70 94 that's the kind of nuance I was trying to look at which is you gotta reinvent a lot more shit gets boring a lot quicker but it's not a sexy answer that Nikhil

[Speaker 3] (1:46:59 - 1:47:08)

was looking for is there a sexy answer like I wanna tell the 20 year old girl what to go and create which will do better than 100 years ago

[Speaker 1] (1:47:09 - 1:47:16)

like should we brainstorm on different categories like I'm assuming what is define her access like what makes her unique yeah exactly

[Speaker 3] (1:47:16 - 1:47:35)

nothing unique more generic say she's very specifically India focused she's studying B.Com in a tier 2 college in Bangalore let's say pocket money is not 50,000 let's say it's 10,000 rupees

[Speaker 1] (1:47:35 - 1:47:38)

doesn't matter yeah but what is what are her interests

[Speaker 3] (1:47:38 - 1:47:46)

she likes music Bollywood stock investing and content creators

[Speaker 1] (1:47:46 - 1:47:49)

alright so off the top of my head Bollywood she could review movies

[Speaker 3] (1:47:49 - 1:47:55)

yeah is that an opportunity because there are so many people already reviewing movies

[Speaker 1] (1:47:55 - 1:48:14)

what's the manner in which they're reviewing movies a format idea is you could review movies either straight like hey this is what I thought of the movie or you review movies in a format like I would do a format like things I thought of while watching Rocky or Rani that's my format that's how I do movie reviews I just tell you the thoughts in my head so it's just a series of jump cuts like I thought this this this

or she could do something that's unique to her stock investing for women that are broke

[Speaker 5] (1:48:20 - 1:48:21)

I'll give you a sexy answer stock investing

[Speaker 2] (1:48:21 - 1:48:22)

for women that are broke

[Speaker 4] (1:48:22 - 1:48:26)

or just simplifying communication around stocks we weren't taught that tell me how to

[Speaker 1] (1:48:26 - 1:48:34)

do my taxes the sexy answer for me is new age journalism start talking about world events it's very risky it'll get you cancelled a lot what are you

saying Rani

[Speaker 1] (1:48:36 - 1:48:46)

new age I'm not taking away nothing from journalism degrees I think you need to be trained to be a journalist etc etc but I don't care it's where the world is going

[Speaker 3] (1:48:46 - 1:48:58)

I actually resonate with him I feel like journalism inherently as an idea sitting behind a corporation does not work because every corporation has bias it has to eventually become more fragmented

[Speaker 1] (1:48:58 - 1:49:03)

every journalist that wants to survive as a

[Speaker 3] (1:49:03 - 1:49:05)

I feel like

[Speaker 4] (1:49:05 - 1:49:24)

especially when you're starting off and I agree to what you're saying but I feel like it'll take a 20 year old creator who's starting off a really long time to reach there to also have the guts to put it out like that it's not easy to put yourself out there because it's ruthless and why do we forget that at the end of the day it is a job

[Speaker 2] (1:49:24 - 1:49:26)

it's much more ruthless for women than men

[Speaker 4] (1:49:26 - 1:49:33)

yeah and you have to turn your laptop off and you have to have a life where you are not messed up in your head is that true what he said

is it a lot more ruthless for women

[Speaker 4] (1:49:37 - 1:50:24)

I'm always the wrong person to answer this and I'll get to that in just a minute but like finishing what I was saying so I feel like for anyone new actually woman or man start or any other gender starting off right now I feel like it's important and it goes back to what we said a while ago it's important for you to get that confidence and validation and credit for yourself to kind of keep going because it's a much longer journey so I feel like if she had to start to reach what you were saying she will have to do something as basic as report things as is and then start pushing out opinions then start giving perspective then start sharing personal stories see what the community is saying but would she get traction if she reports things as is so many channels are there are so many channels right now that are only doing YouTube news

yeah reports things as is as in in the most boring way possible no

[Speaker 4] (1:50:28 - 1:50:31)

not in the most boring way obviously so the nuance

[Speaker 2] (1:50:31 - 1:50:32)

comes in but things as

[Speaker 1] (1:50:32 - 1:50:34)

they are truth is often very boring

[Speaker 2] (1:50:34 - 1:50:38)

but with a different format with a bit more energy what if she if it's

jump cutty and if it's not the kind that she's sitting in front of a green screen and reading out of a folder but she is say it is a vlog where every hour of the day suppose she vlogs for 10 hours a day and every hour of the day she gives you a fun fact

this is vlogs is the answer also really yeah vlogs had become really big a few years ago and then it disappeared

[Speaker 2] (1:51:00 - 1:51:03)

2016 I remember Casey Neistat past with least

[Speaker 3] (1:51:03 - 1:51:04)

friction for likes

[Speaker 1] (1:51:04 - 1:51:09)

Casey Neistat yeah in India for sure your life has to be

[Speaker 2] (1:51:09 - 1:51:12)

interesting making a vlog is much harder you've not seen Indian vlogs

[Speaker 4] (1:51:12 - 1:51:14)

and it has to stay interesting

[Speaker 3] (1:51:14 - 1:51:17)

everyday okay for people who don't know what is a vlog

[Speaker 2] (1:51:18 - 1:51:29)

it's a video log of your life it's basically filming your life from when you wake up until when you sleep it's a 10-20 minute long video and it basically means you have your camera with you the whole god damn time

[Speaker 1] (1:51:29 - 1:51:48)

it's live so the thing is vlogging can either be higher for vlogging or it could just be documenting your life it is the like it's the quickest way of outputting something which is you just document everything that's happening so there are lots of incredibly boring vlogs and there are folks who make it interesting as well second question

give me a good example

[Speaker 3] (1:51:49 - 1:51:50)

Indian vlogs

[Speaker 1] (1:51:50 - 1:51:52)

Indian vlogs of what like

[Speaker 3] (1:51:52 - 1:51:54)

anything who's doing well

[Speaker 1] (1:51:54 - 1:52:24)

yeah so India's biggest vlogger is this guy called Saurav Joshi super interesting right like he lives with his family in a small town called Haldwani he lives with his mom, dad his younger brother some extended family extremely relatable like he puts out a video everyday that does that clocks like 5-7 million views every single day so for me as a viewer so what's working there just pure relatability he's just like millions and millions of other families in this country so people love is that what's working for Ankit?

[Speaker 1] (1:52:26 - 1:52:33)

yes yes yes also Ankit is also like a mission driven creator mission driven creator is also very aspirational

[Speaker 3] (1:52:33 - 1:52:41)

so if I were again a 20 year old boy instead of a girl and I want to start on the journey of vlogging to build distribution

yeah

[Speaker 3] (1:52:41 - 1:52:45)

what kind of life should I project what will work

[Speaker 1] (1:52:45 - 1:52:53)

not really life but I think the quickest way to get a form of community is to find a mission like if you were starting saying I'm gonna get six pack abs

[Speaker 4] (1:52:53 - 1:52:54)

75 hard

[Speaker 1] (1:52:54 - 1:53:02)

75 hard like I'm gonna get this in the next in the next x number of days the viewer automatically roots that you you get it is that going back to your earlier point where you have to have a reveal at the end

[Speaker 3] (1:53:02 - 1:53:06)

[Speaker 1] (1:53:07 - 1:53:08)

that it helps when people wanna

[Speaker 3] (1:53:08 - 1:53:09)

find

[Speaker 1] (1:53:10 - 1:53:14)

what's the end of this story if there's an end goal people wanna watch it till the end

[Speaker 3] (1:53:14 - 1:53:16)

Prajakta if you had to start a vlog that would work

[Speaker 4] (1:53:19 - 1:53:25)

I would do that working out for 100 days and I vlog my workout journey every single day

[Speaker 1] (1:53:25 - 1:53:45)

like there's this really popular youtuber called Ryan Trehan who became massive he started a series called travelling across America using one penny right in 30 days in 30 days travelling across America using one penny so every episode he would begin with one penny and be like I'm gonna go from 8.8 to it makes the episode automatically that much more

why go far I mean Nas Daily that's how it was it was a thousand day journey around the world so you start to see I started to see that the numbers of likes and views start to go up in the last 20 days because people are like oh how is he gonna end his thousand day journey is he gonna break a day and what's gonna happen on day 1000 on day 1000 I got the most number of likes I ever got so that's the reveal 75 hard

[Speaker 1] (1:54:05 - 1:54:06)

75th day most number of views

[Speaker 2] (1:54:06 - 1:54:08)

now he's a lot more than 75

[Speaker 1] (1:54:08 - 1:54:09)

now he's a lot more now he's just continuing

[Speaker 3] (1:54:09 - 1:54:24)

you do a lot of stuff around Ranbir does a lot of spirituality religion you know the whole UFO mystic stuff and all of that is there a big audience for that is that a hack

[Speaker 1] (1:54:25 - 1:54:37)

there is a big audience for that because it interests a lot of people it genuinely interested me since I was a kid I get to explore these subjects as an adult so I think the genuinity of it is what that massive time connects with the one thing life has taught me is never shit on anything because nobody knows what you don't know so I don't want to like comment about it from that lens but if I were a creator who wants to build traction in that segment what should I really talk about the truth is that at least what I sense in India

is that that phase is gone now

[Speaker 3] (1:55:01 - 1:55:01)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (1:55:02 - 1:55:09)

religion not religion religion will never go the other stuff you mentioned alien people want depth in content now

but there can be depth there too right so if you can bring depth great but there aren't enough people to talk about it now in India so what does Ranveer think today will work in the next one year the next one year one to two years elections are coming up so political content young people are getting into politics

older people don't have the balls to speak about politics nowadays so if some kid speaks about politics it'll actually garner a lot of attention and what else

[Speaker 3] (1:55:34 - 1:55:36)

that's one massive one geopolitics

[Speaker 1] (1:55:36 - 1:55:38)

extremes extremes get views

[Speaker 3] (1:55:38 - 1:55:49)

yeah geopolitics is the other one same and when you're talking about politics will the anti view get a lot more traction I think at this point it's about depth think school

great example deep content that's selling you can't do surface level content at least I'm speaking from a very India perspective but I think this is the case from international you know in international waters as well we see that with Andrew Huberman we see that with even Andrew Schultz and all these guys they go deep with their conversations so now is that point where Joe Rogan was in 2018 where he started doing three hour podcasts and people are willing to listen to it so if you bring depth to your content what worked for Joe Rogan quantity you think yes I've been listening to Joe Rogan since I was in college which is 2011 or 2012 and he used to get 30,000 views and I've seen him going from there to this 100 million dollar Spotify contract before I began content creation it was a dream of mine to have a podcast but I always thought dude India either will never be ready for a podcast or it's not ready for a podcast yet and I started my shit because we were doing two channels work was getting too much for me I wanted to switch off one channel team said listen what's the easiest form of content you can do I said I'll talk to people and turn that into content and then we just hit a wave okay next question how big of a hack is making content in regional languages

big huge huge huge I'll give you a stat Nas Daily has 65 million followers 30 million of our followers don't speak English they cannot speak English we have 2 million followers in Vietnam that's 2% of the country and I don't speak a single word of Vietnamese 14% of Russia watches Nas Daily every month on YouTube the kids mainly why is because we can take the same content that we've done in English and we localize it to 13 other languages using air or like we did subtitles we did the beginning with subtitles and now we do dubbing which we pay $100 per minute and now we're using AI but all of that has unlocked a massive market the question is why can you also give some tools after you say why why does Nas Daily have 2 million followers in Vietnam because the demand for content in Vietnam is very high you have 100 million people each one of them has 10 hours every day they want to watch videos but the people making the videos in Vietnam are very low there's only state media it's like TV which is boring and a couple of content creators and every Hollywood movie doesn't actually make it to Vietnam all this content you make does not make it to Vietnam all this podcast you make does not make it to Vietnam so there's no supply of content when you add this content in Vietnamese the supply is so low you get so many views that is called a hack like equilibrium there's no equilibrium in content supply and demand so in English there is an equilibrium there's enough supply of content there's enough demand for it you mean in the middle in Vietnamese supply is so low the demand is so high it's true when you speak to people's identity it generates it generates just a higher engagement rate right be it in their native language or be it about who they are for example if I if I say you know 10 things only engineers will understand right you'll get a lot more shares from engineers 10 things that only Vietnamese people will get that's interesting go deeper in that if you speaking to someone's identity just gets gets more like BuzzFeed pioneered this ages ago right BuzzFeed did take this quiz if you're overweight or 15 things that fat girls will relate to right like they pioneered this and it became obvious eventually that's why nationalistic content does really well that's why geopolitics does really well right because geopolitics you can't speak about geopolitics without attracting an identity touch point of the two countries that you're talking about I do Pakistanis are savage why do I put Pakistanis are savage in the title because I know Pakistani people are going to click on it

right

[Speaker 1] (1:59:38 - 1:59:42)

so that's another hack which is when you speak to people's identities

[Speaker 3] (1:59:43 - 1:59:46)

that's good and how do you identify niche identities

[Speaker 1] (1:59:46 - 1:59:48)

there's just large islands man there's so many

[Speaker 3] (1:59:48 - 1:59:51)

identities how do you figure that out like if I'm a content creator

[Speaker 1] (1:59:51 - 1:59:57)

the language you speak at home that's one identity the job you do that's one identity the family you grew up around that's one identity you went to

[Speaker 2] (1:59:57 - 1:59:58)

ICSE National identity

[Speaker 1] (1:59:58 - 2:00:07)

is the easiest one what in India there are so many because we have 5000 identities there are 5000 islands ICSE CBSE SSE schools

[Speaker 3] (2:00:07 - 2:00:11)

how do I find a small enough identity why do you need to find a small

why do you need to find a small

the smaller it is the more they'll share you the biggest one is country

[Speaker 1] (2:00:17 - 2:00:21)

the most specific you are the most specific you are that kind of helps

[Speaker 3] (2:00:21 - 2:00:23)

I'm taking specific as smaller so what are these

[Speaker 2] (2:00:23 - 2:00:34)

identities which are unutilized it's countries you have no idea when people actually start content creation like influencers in America they go to where they go to the Philippines because when a white guy

[Speaker 1] (2:00:34 - 2:00:36)

they collaborate with Indians now

[Speaker 2] (2:00:36 - 2:00:54)

when a white guy goes to the Philippines and says I ate Filipino food yeah huge huge huge same with India actually I got pushed back I got cancelled because I made so many videos in the Philippines because they were like oh you're just using us to get views which wasn't true I actually really like the Philippines but anyway that was a thing

yes

oh no I went to 70 countries can I say something there's something that I've realized with the whole regional targeting of content right and correct me if I'm wrong this is just something also this is something I've felt in the past two three years and that has helped me as a creator in taking the pressure off of numbers for example when I started off in my head content creators had a pyramid right if you had more numbers you were on top and then as you had lesser numbers you were on the bottom of the food chain reverse pyramid reverse pyramid yeah like that one yeah but at this point I feel like it's a globe where one person's top is other person's bottom if a brand has to come to me to market a product in a certain language that is spoken in a certain part of the country that I don't speak I could have millions and millions of followers but I'm useless it does not matter a creator who speaks the regional language has the regional references and has one hundredth of my numbers

could charge a premium

[Speaker 4] (2:02:06 - 2:02:24)

could charge a premium and get that much ROI for the brand so at this point regional content has reached a point where the whole dynamics of the creator economy have shifted to really depends on where you're coming from and whom do you want to talk to

and supply is lower

[Speaker 1] (2:02:25 - 2:02:25)

so you can also

[Speaker 2] (2:02:25 - 2:02:44)

charge more exactly Nelson Mandela said an amazing quote if you speak to a man in a language that he learned it goes to his brain if you speak to a man in his native language it goes to his heart I have something to add to that from the Indian context I've always believed that in India

the English content you do it for the money the Hindi content you do it for the power

[Speaker 2] (2:02:47 - 2:02:50)

yeah that makes sense it goes to the heart

[Speaker 1] (2:02:50 - 2:02:53)

you can actually influence people's lives Hindi content

[Speaker 4] (2:02:53 - 2:02:54)

you do for money

[Speaker 1] (2:02:54 - 2:02:55)

no no English content

[Speaker 4] (2:02:55 - 2:02:57)

you do for money it's higher brand value and Hindi

[Speaker 1] (2:02:57 - 2:02:59)

brand managers can speak English

[Speaker 3] (2:02:59 - 2:03:01)

that's true brand managers can speak English

[Speaker 1] (2:03:01 - 2:03:02)

decision makers

[Speaker 5] (2:03:02 - 2:03:02)

might want to

[Speaker 1] (2:03:02 - 2:03:03)

influence the

[Speaker 3] (2:03:03 - 2:03:03)

marketing

[Speaker 1] (2:03:03 - 2:03:07)

also Ranveer hire Arpoo for English speaking people

[Speaker 3] (2:03:07 - 2:03:16)

also before we leave this topic I want to ask what are the tools a new creator can use today to translate what works what doesn't

[Speaker 2] (2:03:16 - 2:03:26)

AI has solved this hey Jen is now AI dubbing spell it h-e-y-g-e-n g-e-n actually I built a company is that better than dubbing

[Speaker 3] (2:03:26 - 2:03:27)

[Speaker 2] (2:03:27 - 2:03:42)

paying somebody to dub it's very expensive so paying somebody to dub you need an agency it's a hundred dollars per minute also please give your opinions I don't know if it's the best decision to dub straight from the beginning of your content just start with one language don't even consider it

content is a skill it is a skill it's different from filmmaking like you need to understand how social media works and evolves

[Speaker 2] (2:03:49 - 2:03:50)

so maybe at the start just

[Speaker 5] (2:03:50 - 2:03:52)

create an initial

[Speaker 2] (2:03:52 - 2:04:06)

we only did this after I hit 15 million followers so then you use something like then you start 13 languages yeah different languages and you're saying AI works just as well as dubbing in the next two months it will be just as good and so damn cheap

[Speaker 1] (2:04:06 - 2:04:07)

it's already very good

[Speaker 2] (2:04:07 - 2:04:09)

the cost to make

[Speaker 1] (2:04:09 - 2:04:11)

and duplicate content is going to zero

[Speaker 2] (2:04:12 - 2:04:14)

doesn't it look weird when your mouth is

[Speaker 3] (2:04:14 - 2:04:15)

no not anymore

[Speaker 1] (2:04:15 - 2:04:16)

no not anymore

[Speaker 3] (2:04:16 - 2:04:17)

it's going to get

[Speaker 1] (2:04:17 - 2:04:26)

built in on YouTube Nikhil there's going to be a button where you can select a language and your mouth will move in that language it's going to come into YouTube it's going to take forever because YouTube is a slightly slower moving beast but it's going to come do subtitles work?

so interestingly enough there's two types of countries in the world there's a subtitle country and a dubbing country Germany is a dubbing country that's why when you go visit Germany nobody speaks English because they watch Hollywood dubbed but in Serbia and in my country it's a subtitle country so I would watch movies but I would read subtitles that's why I speak English thank God I was born in a subtitle country this is what scares me about dubbing it'll make you not learn the language what works in India?

India is a subtitle country I think only Nasair will have the answer actually India may be a dubbing country hey what about virtue signalling?

[Speaker 3] (2:05:05 - 2:05:15)

I know a lot of actors in business people do it can you explain what virtue signalling is? pretending to be a saint whereas you're as human as all of us

[Speaker 1] (2:05:15 - 2:05:17)

like signalling how virtuous you are

[Speaker 3] (2:05:17 - 2:05:18)

got it on social media

[Speaker 1] (2:05:18 - 2:05:40)

if you survive long enough on social media people know exactly who you are yeah exactly virtue signalling works Nikhil it does work but it creates an expectation out of you that's hard to sustain because not everybody is as virtuous as they claim to be nobody is nobody is so you can virtue signalling and it does work which is people will like you and people will think a certain way of you

yeah but I'm talking about somebody who wants to become a creator 20 year old will virtue signalling work for someone like that?

I think at that stage it's important to just stand out all this comes later I think it's a way to hack

what's the point of signalling your virtues in emptiness like you need a large audience to

signal your virtues

[Speaker 1] (2:05:57 - 2:05:59)

get an audience then virtue

[Speaker 4] (2:05:59 - 2:06:03)

you'll also not know what the virtue is for a very long time

[Speaker 3] (2:06:03 - 2:06:11)

so begin by being anti-anti-anti whatever and when you have an audience become more virtuous and resonate with whatever society

[Speaker 1] (2:06:11 - 2:06:14)

if you have a large enough audience you will need to display your virtue

[Speaker 2] (2:06:14 - 2:06:23)

at some point you will find the need to when is that point? when your audience start to ask you when your audience start to ask you what's your opinion about Israel and Palestine

[Speaker 4] (2:06:23 - 2:06:25)

when they start speaking back

[Speaker 2] (2:06:25 - 2:06:29)

I've crossed that point actually all of you have crossed that point your audience will

[Speaker 1] (2:06:29 - 2:06:44)

expect what they think you will respond to if you continuously virtue signalling about my thoughts on what the political affairs are and if you keep talking about that at some point if you go quiet your audience will be like yo what happened why aren't you opining about this

or even something as simple as relationships when creators share about their relationship online and then they go all out sharing talking about it even doing brand deals things like that and then when that falls out

[Speaker 5] (2:06:58 - 2:06:59)

and your audience

[Speaker 4] (2:06:59 - 2:07:05)

expects you to answer I don't think that's the time you can take a stand saying oh no I want my space

[Speaker 2] (2:07:05 - 2:07:13)

but what I recommend to people is that the image that they are in real life should be online it's so important I have a

[Speaker 4] (2:07:13 - 2:07:14)

that's interesting

[Speaker 5] (2:07:14 - 2:07:14)

yeah

[Speaker 2] (2:07:15 - 2:07:19)

fk with social media so much of you is out there

[Speaker 5] (2:07:19 - 2:07:20)

okay

[Speaker 1] (2:07:21 - 2:07:59)

because of the show I met a lot of people who mentored me in many ways and I tried being the best possible dude in real life wasn't successful everywhere made mistakes but a lot of that rubbed off for example it began my channel began as a fitness channel maximize your fitness I worked on my mental health in order to talk about mental health content I won't make yoga content until I've mastered yoga and I've begun yoga since the last year so if you have a vision of what kind of content you want to make start working on it right now you can fake it till you make it but for how long I mean it's possible to fake it till you make it yeah you can I mean that's true

[Speaker 4] (2:07:59 - 2:08:05)

I also feel like collaborations are very very powerful when you start a creative journey

[Speaker 3] (2:08:05 - 2:08:09)

that's interesting go into that how does a new person collaborate and who do they collaborate

[Speaker 4] (2:08:09 - 2:08:11)

with with other new people

[Speaker 3] (2:08:11 - 2:08:14)

like people who are near your numbers how do you find them

[Speaker 4] (2:08:14 - 2:08:20)

or you can be ambitious like I remember shooting Liliatext as often as I could till it happened

[Speaker 1] (2:08:20 - 2:08:22)

we all have shot Liliatext at some point

[Speaker 4] (2:08:22 - 2:08:37)

till it actually happened I remember shooting or like just kind of manifesting in my head and wanting to do something with Hrithik Roshan I'm a huge fan till that happened but that took a long long time I'm just saying in general I have learnt so much

and what works when you message these people what can one say that will work

[Speaker 4] (2:08:41 - 2:08:50)

hi I'm a creator and this is what I do and I really really like your work and if you have some time I would love to shoot something with you doesn't work it doesn't work

[Speaker 1] (2:08:50 - 2:08:59)

it's just whenever you're asking someone anything their time money especially their time especially their time you gotta understand what would incentivize them

[Speaker 3] (2:08:59 - 2:09:01)

you must give them value yeah

[Speaker 4] (2:09:01 - 2:09:07)

when I speak about collaborations I also speak about friendships and allies and allies in the creator community

[Speaker 3] (2:09:07 - 2:09:16)

see I'm a creator beginning today I want to be a part of an ecosystem with other curators and creators how do I find them?

[Speaker 4] (2:09:17 - 2:09:31)

when I started off I don't know I don't think YouTube does that anymore but when I started off I remember telling my partner manager at YouTube or just shooting texts to YouTube what is a partner manager at YouTube? you'll have a partner manager on YouTube who's looking after your account and is who you can sit down with every night

you don't have that anymore back in the day there were fewer creators now to get up to be eligible for a partner manager you need to have

[Speaker 4] (2:09:38 - 2:09:39)

x thousand hours

[Speaker 1] (2:09:39 - 2:09:45)

of watch time x number of subscribers it's hard now the number of partner managers per creator is very low

a lot so I remember telling her that if there's any kind of social gathering any kind of panel discussion any kind of creator workshop happening please please sign me up for this because I want to go and meet other people and I want to do that what we can do now is I feel like a lot of creators like a lot of newer creators now I meet at social events done by YouTube or Facebook or Instagram and I just feel like is that a good show up at these events?

[Speaker 2] (2:10:14 - 2:10:15)

I think so

[Speaker 4] (2:10:16 - 2:10:30)

like finding these finding these hubs where conversations relevant to what you are doing or in the realm of your life as a creator are happening and kind of wanting to be in those places

there is something called non-consensual collaboration for example this is a growing trend now which is if you want to collaborate with someone you get your you start talking about how you want to collaborate with this person and you get your whole follower base to go start spamming them and messaging this person wants to do something with you right? so what the algorithm is doing is the algorithm is recognizing that this person is talking about this person so the video automatically starts getting recommended to people who follow this person this happens on YouTube all the time it starts happening on Instagram etc etc like why rat coley?

[Speaker 2] (2:11:02 - 2:11:03)

like why rat coley?

[Speaker 1] (2:11:03 - 2:11:07)

that's non-consensual collaboration this dude just kept talking about you know Virat

[Speaker 2] (2:11:07 - 2:11:08)

I love that

[Speaker 1] (2:11:08 - 2:11:23)

so non-consensual collaboration is one but generally speaking you want to collaborate with people you are more likely to get a yes to collaborate one so people want to collaborate up but that's hard so you want to start collaborating sideways yeah makes sense thumbnails and titles how important are they?

[Speaker 3] (2:11:23 - 2:11:27)

[Speaker 2] (2:11:27 - 2:11:38)

very important not important not? really? at all zero should we debate?

yeah go ahead why is it important?

[Speaker 1] (2:11:39 - 2:12:02)

um sizzle matters as much as steak sizzle matters um I mean there's enough documented evidence that suggests that I mean Mr. Beast is a great example just last week he was tweeting about how videos where he closes his mouth get a lot more views than thumbnails where his mouth is open

[Speaker 3] (2:12:02 - 2:12:06)

I thought he said the other thing thumbnails where his mouth is open get more views

[Speaker 1] (2:12:07 - 2:12:09)

either or basically he changed

[Speaker 3] (2:12:09 - 2:12:13)

one variable people think he's saying something and want to click it

[Speaker 1] (2:12:13 - 2:12:26)

yeah so either or which is oh he changed one variable and that that made a big difference boring I mean there's how can you disagree boring title I mean of course short on short video it's short video is completely different

what I'm trying to say is there's only one platform and one type of video yeah where thumbnail and title matter which is a long video on YouTube on YouTube yeah the majority of people watching this are going to be uploading Instagram reels yes on Instagram reels the title doesn't matter thumbnail doesn't matter

[Speaker 2] (2:12:42 - 2:12:50)

doesn't matter in fact no one should be stressing over this at the beginning just stress over the first three seconds of the video the first sentence that you say in the video

yeah

[Speaker 2] (2:12:50 - 2:12:59)

so on TikTok thumbnails don't matter on Instagram thumbnails don't matter and on Facebook thumbnails don't matter and in YouTube short thumbnails don't matter only on YouTube videos

videos

[Speaker 2] (2:13:00 - 2:13:04)

okay so for YouTube videos what do you do how do you make

a thumbnail and a title that works I've delegated everything in my organization when it comes to video content other than actually coming on screen titling and thumbnails are things I've not been able to delegate and I have I have two like other channels I have Beer Biceps which is English Ranveer Allahbadia Hindi there's TRS Clips English and TRS Clips Hindi the titles are done by me and the thumbnails are also suggested I just want to suggest some things that people could follow you should probably check out Paddy Galloway he does a he does a YouTube course and he talks a lot about titling and thumbnail follow this guy called Papa Okas on Twitter he's an Indian kid who is deeply into it sorry I just wanted to throw in the recommendation

[Speaker 1] (2:13:09 - 2:13:42)

so when it comes to titles there's very easy wins okay how why what start the title with how how and why because the average human really wants to know why Greenland is not actually green the human brain really wants to know how aquariums work okay so how and why is a very easy win the second easy win is superlatives and we teach all this at Nas Academy I've done this 50 times superlatives everybody wants to know the story of the world's tallest man yeah everybody wants to know who is the world's youngest billionaire yeah who is it you know so so so so extremes and how and why and the last one is paradox so the the unhappy billionaire well you assume a billionaire is always happy right contradictory contradictory so that's the three biggest categories for things that is there a tool that you can use that'll help in this pattern recognition if you take if you pirate the Nas Academy course and put it into chat

[Speaker 5] (2:14:54 - 2:14:56)

and share it on

why not just like pay money why not just give us money if you pirate the course

is there a course on how to put good thumbnails and titles

[Speaker 2] (2:15:04 - 2:15:14)

yeah yeah like it's a module but there I don't know if there's a course and how much do you charge the price is not India friendly it's $3000 for five months

five month cohort what if somebody

[Speaker 2] (2:15:17 - 2:15:20)

just wants to learn this bit you can't just go to YouTube

[Speaker 1] (2:15:20 - 2:15:22)

get it for free you pirate it and you get it for free

[Speaker 3] (2:15:22 - 2:15:23)

stop it

[Speaker 2] (2:15:23 - 2:15:24)

because if you do

[Speaker 5] (2:15:24 - 2:15:25)

we don't make money

[Speaker 3] (2:15:25 - 2:15:28)

okay you guys tips thumbnail and titles

[Speaker 1] (2:15:29 - 2:15:54)

I have for me these things didn't work like after a point maybe it's because I have a larger quantity of content so then I need to bring novelty to the titles and all that I try focusing on first three words

that's all and what do you do in the first three words actually learned it from you I think you had suggested this first three words it's too it has to match the content of the video shocking

secret this is what works in India dark these kind of words that create an emotion give us some more shocking secret dark then twisted because when you say that

intense

[Speaker 3] (2:16:10 - 2:16:12)

you're playing the inquisitiveness card

[Speaker 5] (2:16:12 - 2:16:13)

yeah yeah

[Speaker 3] (2:16:13 - 2:16:14)

but again

[Speaker 1] (2:16:14 - 2:16:48)

I used to believe in set formulas for titles and TRS Clips English and Hindi taught me otherwise it was just a very brutal experience for me and it's still a brutal experience I think some things that could help people are just observe your own behaviour when you're clicking on videos if just that one moment of self-reflection saying what made me click on it outside of what Nuzair also said I agree with that the time of your video really matters which is totally addressable market like you could have a paradoxical title about something that nobody cares about and it would not get views it should be it should be a broad time yeah that's what I

also copy a successful video so look at a viral video like go to like a Vox channel and sort the videos by popularity

great hack

[Speaker 2] (2:16:57 - 2:17:00)

and then just copy the thumbnail and copy the title

[Speaker 1] (2:17:00 - 2:17:21)

yeah so one hack is you could go to any YouTube channel of the genre that you are operating in so if Ranveer was starting out and he was talking about fitness I would say go to the top 10 fitness channels that are existing go to videos click on most popular and just see the subjects that are done really well it auto sorts your first 20 videos are already there it's just the first 20 most popular

[Speaker 2] (2:17:21 - 2:17:36)

I really hope anybody watching this I cannot stress it enough do not start your career by making long YouTube videos it will ruin your dream there is no discoverability engine in this this is only when you're big enough for now focus on TikTok, Instagram

but this comes with caveats for example for example you could do long videos for example if you are a bunch of friends you want to start a podcast you could but you optimize for short video output that's what you optimize for you could do long form video but likelihood of success is very low you optimize for short video output in fact now a lot of people actually do podcasts very much keeping in mind that I'm actually not shooting a 2 hour podcast I'm shooting 20 clips yeah that's fine

like when we used to do this right when we started off we would upload a YouTube video and back Instagram had just started video on it so we used to cut a 20 second trailer from our video and then put it on Instagram and say full video on YouTube but that did wonders for us so I feel like you can use that model right now by what he's saying like make a longer video but then optimize it by cutting tiny bits of it but make the short video whole not like a teaser whole from beginning to end a story not saying hey go to YouTube to see the rest because nobody will go to YouTube

these days

[Speaker 2] (2:18:41 - 2:18:44)

that doesn't work if you put a part

[Speaker 3] (2:18:44 - 2:18:46)

of something and say go here to watch full

[Speaker 2] (2:18:46 - 2:18:49)

it could depends on what it is

[Speaker 3] (2:18:49 - 2:18:55)

that plays into your early story I agree with that 3, 2, 1, 1 being the big thing yeah it can work

[Speaker 2] (2:18:55 - 2:19:00)

changing apps to do that is a monumental task from YouTube short to YouTube full

[Speaker 1] (2:19:00 - 2:19:03)

yeah that because there's a feature now which can just one click and you go to the main part

[Speaker 2] (2:19:03 - 2:19:09)

as of last week as of last week that's fine but before that it was very hard yeah Prajakta tips

[Speaker 3] (2:19:09 - 2:19:11)

title and thumbnail what worked for you

[Speaker 4] (2:19:11 - 2:19:35)

I don't know I really don't know I think I was just winging it I don't think I was putting any sort of logic or science to it when I was doing it I would go week to week if there's a video that worked I was so focused on the engagement under the video and understanding the content that I think what I could have done better was that also put some focus on the title and thumbnail I don't think I did that

this I don't know thing is key because actually everyone's building their own inherent communities and often if it's a content creator only the content creator not even like the second in command third in command understand the community's pulse as well so there is an I don't know when I'm starting to write the titles

[Speaker 3] (2:19:49 - 2:20:03)

I don't know where they come out from but they come out well give me one unique hack each that you guys learnt along your illustrious journeys like decade decade decade decade plus right

[Speaker 1] (2:20:04 - 2:20:06)

what the f have you been doing this for

[Speaker 3] (2:20:07 - 2:20:15)

it's all been insights that we have learnt over the last decade one hack one hack to a 20 year old boy or girl who wants to become a creator

[Speaker 4] (2:20:16 - 2:20:28)

when you're starting off don't care as much about expensive equipment set ups money investment marketing when you're starting off

[Speaker 3] (2:20:28 - 2:20:29)

equipment doesn't matter that much

[Speaker 4] (2:20:29 - 2:20:38)

no I mean you have cell phones right now that have cameras with good sound good video even if it's a basic one whatever you're using any

[Speaker 5] (2:20:38 - 2:20:40)

most of them are good most of them are good

[Speaker 4] (2:20:40 - 2:20:49)

as long as your video is crisp clear visible and your sound is audible I think you're good to start off do you think increased

[Speaker 3] (2:20:49 - 2:20:54)

clarity leads to increased views like the production quality

[Speaker 2] (2:20:55 - 2:20:56)

production quality doesn't lead to

[Speaker 3] (2:20:56 - 2:20:58)

at some point it becomes inverse yeah yeah

[Speaker 2] (2:20:58 - 2:20:59)

that's what we've

[Speaker 5] (2:20:59 - 2:21:01)

observed as well I remember Bhuvan

[Speaker 4] (2:21:01 - 2:21:08)

talking about it where Bhuvan used to shoot on his phone all his videos and he spoke about how he moved to a camera setup and his engagement went down

[Speaker 1] (2:21:08 - 2:21:19)

I think people use Instagram with the intention of relating a little bit at least with Instagram reels we've noticed that when we create a reel with SLR footage it doesn't work as well as when you do it with iPhone footage

[Speaker 2] (2:21:19 - 2:22:04)

like phone footage in general I don't know why that is here's my hack the problem actually for most creators is they are too shy to hit publish and or they take too long to publish a video so they're like I worked on this video today it's not perfect yet I'll work on it tomorrow and then tomorrow work expands to the time allowed for it work expands to the time allowed for it which means if you give yourself a deadline of 10 days to make a video you will make that video in 10 days and it'll take you 10 days of work but if you commit to make a video every five days and this is my deadline on the fifth day I must hit publish no matter what happens you'll make it the same quality video in five days in fact

I was when you were asking for hacks I was going to say that most people who come to me and ask me for tips to do YouTube actually all they want to hear is just hit publish just hit publish just do it most people want to ask for advice thinking there's some secret thing that YouTubers or creators know it's really not a thing there's nothing that will teach you more than uploading

five times so with Nas Daily my deadline was 24 hours every 24 hours I must hit publish even if I really really hate the video I must publish it and so that pushing to hit you and you must commit publicly to it and another thing is when you say privately I'll just do a video every day but actually when I found work the pressure of you go and tell all your family members and all your friends and everybody I've committed to losing weight or I've committed to making 100 videos in 100 days you will do it also adding on to that but I feel like if you are getting into it as a creator for a longer run please treat it as a job and get that discipline into it

[Speaker 3] (2:23:01 - 2:23:13)

but how do you make that switch like today if I have college or a job and I'm earning say 50,000 rupees a month I'm spending some money my spare time creating content

[Speaker 4] (2:23:13 - 2:23:14)

when do I make

[Speaker 5] (2:23:14 - 2:23:15)

that decision

[Speaker 4] (2:23:15 - 2:23:26)

assign that spare time tell yourself that if I'm working say a 9 to 5 I come home I say chill with friends or work out and stuff like that but I'm going to give myself a 9pm to 10pm to sit and ideate content when you're starting off

[Speaker 3] (2:23:27 - 2:23:36)

another question who do you learn from because we looked online and could not find anything useful really in how to become a creator

my next hack sorry my next hack if you're about to start content creation ditch your friends say goodbye to your friends your friends will be a hindrance to you because your friends are doing 9 to 5 jobs lawyer, accountant, KPMG engineer when you're uploading that video you will feel so alone you'll never have felt lonelier in your life so the first thing I did when I started Nas Daily I literally said to all my friends in New York goodbye I'm going to Kenya by myself I'm going to make videos and so that's my recommendation is one ditch your existing friends because you're about to enter a whole new industry and two surround yourself with new types of friends that are from the creative industry the ones that don't shame you for screaming in front of a video my existing friends shame me

[Speaker 4] (2:24:22 - 2:24:25)

I don't know if that can be like a blanket advice to everyone

[Speaker 2] (2:24:25 - 2:24:27)

yeah I want to be controversial of course for the one minute video

[Speaker 5] (2:24:28 - 2:24:30)

no no what I'm saying

[Speaker 4] (2:24:30 - 2:24:43)

but every kind of content I don't think that could be advice that could be used by everyone making every kind of content because that's how you started but for me when I started off I needed those two friends of mine because one of them came to hold the camera for me okay

[Speaker 2] (2:24:43 - 2:24:51)

so they're helping you with the content yeah okay so ditch your friends that don't help you with the content yeah ditch your friends who aren't unconditionally supportive all the time

[Speaker 4] (2:24:51 - 2:24:55)

that you should ditch anyway you could be a creator to ditch those friends

[Speaker 1] (2:24:55 - 2:24:56)

yeah

[Speaker 4] (2:24:56 - 2:24:59)

you could be a lawyer you could be a teacher and if they're not supportive you should ditch them

[Speaker 1] (2:25:01 - 2:25:01)

fair enough

[Speaker 4] (2:25:01 - 2:25:04)

yeah more hacks one more hack

[Speaker 1] (2:25:04 - 2:25:24)

I actually don't know if it's a this is a thing that a lot of people ask should I quit my job what is the optimal time to to like to leave your job like Nikhil I think touched upon this like is it when you start making as much money as your job does and or when you start making slightly less money but you think there's a potential

potential for it what do you think I'm asking you oh it's for me okay I actually don't think about it in terms of money I think about it in terms of time so the question is if I don't have a job today how many months do I need to figure out a new career in content creation so I needed one year to test content creation how much money do I spend in one year I need to save that so the question the answer was like thirty thousand forty thousand dollars in New York which is a lot of money so I saved that and then I was like okay I have one year of freedom let's just go all in on content by the end of the year it doesn't work I'm back to a job

very few people are able to succeed while also doing another thing

[Speaker 5] (2:26:01 - 2:26:01)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:26:01 - 2:26:06)

it's it's it's very tough to do that if you do you're really talented

Elon Musk

[Speaker 1] (2:26:07 - 2:26:14)

you're really talented at being able to figure out in your spare time how to crush it in the content thing so it requires you

[Speaker 2] (2:26:14 - 2:26:16)

to make that jump to actually

[Speaker 4] (2:26:16 - 2:26:21)

fully succeed but you can start while you're doing something you can start you can get a sense of

[Speaker 2] (2:26:21 - 2:26:28)

we talked about the and economy you can still be a doctor and a creator if you make one video per week but if you make one video per day there's no space

for anything

[Speaker 1] (2:26:29 - 2:26:56)

I have warnings rather than hacks two warnings first don't do it if you're too sensitive and don't do it if you don't enjoy the actual process of creating videos at this stage maybe later on animated content will become more mainstream and doable but right now it's a lot about shooting, lighting thinking of what you want to show in your video so unless you're truly having fun with creating something and showing it to people don't do it

also I feel like be okay with the fact that you'll never completely get it you'll never completely have a grip on it you will constantly be learning you will constantly be evolving and be okay with that change because I feel like if you enter being a content creator thinking okay I've got it I know how to do it I have it all in place it's I think it's just going to fall flat

it's a very cliched thing but be original is too cliched but I think a better way to say it is blind copying can only take you this far blind copying can take it can take you to a distance but beyond that you've got to have your own spin on it otherwise it's not long lasting

money uncomfortable question we love money we should all say exactly how much money we make right here okay good idea start with yourself

[Speaker 4] (2:27:49 - 2:27:53)

we know 77 thousand tomorrow but what about the other days

[Speaker 2] (2:27:53 - 2:29:55)

so my financial journey is actually very transparent and I love sharing it because it's so I started with 30 thousand dollars in savings I spent one year I didn't make any money until I started to make one thousand two thousand dollars a month from jobs when I had a hundred thousand followers a brand deal comes here a brand deal comes here I was charging a thousand two thousand dollars then Facebook introduced monetization I started to make money from my channel I started to make ten thousand dollars a month and that was for me like I made it and how much traction did you have I had a million followers a million followers on Facebook I was making ten thousand dollars a month and then the beauty of the creator economy is that it doesn't go in a straight line your salary goes up in a straight line if you have a job every month but if you're a content creator your salary will go up like this and so this is what happened to me so one million followers became ten million followers okay Facebook started to give me thirty thousand dollars a month okay then my brand deal started to be another thirty thousand dollars a month then speaking engagements another twenty thousand dollars a month so now I was averaging eighty thousand dollars a month I finished a thousand days three years in I was making eighty thousand dollars a month fing amazing okay I became a millionaire first time in my life at age twenty six amazing then I was like let's build a company because there's much more to this so then we build a company the company starts to make twenty thousand dollars making videos for other people you've seen my social media video let me do it for you you're a brand okay behind the scenes okay so you start to offer services then you start to monetize your community offer Nass Academy classes Nass Summit Nass Travels okay so all in all I think this month so I have two companies the combined revenue of that is roughly now nine hundred thousand dollars to a million dollars a month wow and it's from like six seven different sources so it's highly diversified and probably the profit is roughly USD per month from one company and then the other company is losing money so losing three hundred K is that the company

I'm an investor in yes great track record

[Speaker 1] (2:30:04 - 2:30:05)

niggas got one genius investor

[Speaker 5] (2:30:05 - 2:30:07)

I'm using your money

[Speaker 1] (2:30:08 - 2:30:09)

alright so

[Speaker 2] (2:30:09 - 2:30:13)

that's transparency now let me see you be financially naked guys

[Speaker 1] (2:30:13 - 2:30:43)

yeah I'm not going to wildly different but I want to be I want to talk about numbers right so people I think grossly underestimate how much money YouTube can pay yes right in my experience based on India CPM if you get one million if you get one million views you can make like one million to one lakh rupees is that is that

varied on CPM

[Speaker 1] (2:30:45 - 2:30:53)

varied on CPM but largely at somewhere around that if you get one million views you can make up to one lakh rupees one lakh rupees one million

[Speaker 4] (2:30:53 - 2:30:54)

but the lower cap is also

[Speaker 2] (2:30:54 - 2:30:55)

lower cap

[Speaker 4] (2:30:55 - 2:30:56)

can be

[Speaker 2] (2:30:56 - 2:31:09)

what's one lakh dollars hundred thousand hundred thousand rupees no eighty thousand thousand dollars what one million views and one thousand dollars in India no way Jose yeah it's two hundred dollars depends again it's a

[Speaker 4] (2:31:09 - 2:31:12)

it's a variable he's saying up to a thousand

[Speaker 2] (2:31:12 - 2:31:14)

up to if you make financial content for billionaires

[Speaker 1] (2:31:14 - 2:31:32)

you'll get a thousand dollars not necessarily it really depends on the ads on your channel for example on my channel eighty percent of the viewers are from India the remaining twenty percent are from around the world so my CPMs are higher a big chunk of my viewers have YouTube premium a big chunk of the people from around the world are actually from USA

but tell me duration as well like you're saying one million views

[Speaker 1] (2:31:35 - 2:31:36)

yeah

[Speaker 3] (2:31:36 - 2:31:38)

one minute ten minute one hour I think

[Speaker 1] (2:31:38 - 2:31:39)

how much do you get paid

[Speaker 3] (2:31:39 - 2:31:40)

how much do you get paid

[Speaker 1] (2:31:40 - 2:31:46)

so I'm the average view duration on my channel is about nine and a half minutes of video that's why you make yeah that's why

[Speaker 3] (2:31:46 - 2:31:47)

I probably

[Speaker 1] (2:31:47 - 2:31:52)

probably make more but it's possible to make it's possible to make this much right

[Speaker 3] (2:31:52 - 2:31:55)

and how many views do you get in a month

[Speaker 1] (2:31:55 - 2:32:00)

depends on the month but twenty million is twenty million is comfortable twenty thousand dollars

a month

[Speaker 1] (2:32:00 - 2:32:28)

twenty thousand dollars a month is very very possible unfortunately in India the businesses that monetizes the audience unless you are selling like finance courses or tech courses it's it's tough to sell to an audience when you're playing at that scale there's very there's not a lot of stuff that that you can do but branded revenue wise if you're in the top five ten percent of creators you can make over a million dollars a year you can you can do that you can do that

if you're getting how many views

[Speaker 1] (2:32:29 - 2:32:34)

not how many views if you're in the top ten percentile creators you're able to make seven ten crores

[Speaker 2] (2:32:34 - 2:32:38)

that means brand influencer marketing is fifty million dollar market a year

[Speaker 1] (2:32:38 - 2:32:40)

it'll be more than that I think it's more than that already

[Speaker 2] (2:32:40 - 2:32:42)

I think it's about two hundred million two fifty million

[Speaker 1] (2:32:42 - 2:33:08)

yeah so I don't think it's less than fifty I think about a hundred at least a hundred plus creators are making more than that from brands I'm talking purely from brands I think from community they're making billions yeah there are by the way I know many creators who are making more from monetizing through courses and that kind of stuff that can go that can go higher a lot of a lot of finfluencers have affiliate income that's coming from you know what is the regulation around that what is the confusion around it

[Speaker 3] (2:33:08 - 2:33:11)

there's general talk about can we regulate finfluencers from disseminating financial information if they're not registered with the with the national authority but my thought is also you know mainstream media has been doing this for very long you should probably also look at that bunch of these TV channels have been doing what effectively finfluencers are accused of accused of doing this for very long now at a time where media was not as decentralized now so the effect of disseminating financial information during centralized media time was a lot higher that we're all discounting secondly I actually I actually think that net net finfluencers have have had a positive impact because there's a whole generation that CNBC was not talking to I agree with you 100% there's just a large generation that and by the way the information asymmetry was capitalized on

whereas information has gotten decentralized and accessible to way more people now so net net I think finfluencers have done more for the education than TV channels ever did yeah so my personal gut is that you know look at your own backyard for the last you know two decades and then maybe maybe make these changes and by the way a lot of this will you know a lot of legacy media houses are not gonna like this fact that someone can wake up start making Instagram reels yes get more distribution than them because I know influencers are making more revenue than full media houses combined and getting more views making more revenue there's no reason

[Speaker 3] (2:34:49 - 2:34:52)

there's a reason why they're doing that they're putting out better quality

[Speaker 1] (2:34:52 - 2:35:13)

they're putting out better quality so is there envy fk yes and are you gonna use that muscle to go after people fk yes and are we gonna see more of it fk yes it's gonna happen more and more and more like how we said brands are not your friends legacy media houses are not your friends this goes for all influencers they're not your friends

[Speaker 2] (2:35:13 - 2:35:14)

but the lines

should not be crossed I feel like of course at some points they were and there should be measures taken to curtail and you know have some kind of a line of course but net net have and apply those rules

to everyone

[Speaker 3] (2:35:26 - 2:35:26)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:35:26 - 2:35:28)

apply those rules to everyone

[Speaker 3] (2:35:28 - 2:35:29)

rules have to apply commonly to everyone

yeah if someone's getting slaughtered for promoting a certain exchange go after all the newspapers

[Speaker 3] (2:35:35 - 2:35:36)

that also did the same

[Speaker 1] (2:35:36 - 2:35:39)

yeah you know agree why aren't you doing that apply the rules to everyone

[Speaker 3] (2:35:39 - 2:35:46)

yeah agreed you're making a fair point so you make $20,000 a month from youtube

[Speaker 1] (2:35:46 - 2:35:49)

you can make there are months that are better there are months that are worse

[Speaker 3] (2:35:49 - 2:35:50)

and from brands you probably

[Speaker 1] (2:35:50 - 2:36:09)

I think the upward cap is it's possible if you have more than 10 million across different social media profiles which you do I have so you can make upwards of a million dollars a year the market can price you dynamically yeah you are worth what the person who's willing to pay you that's what your worth is

[Speaker 3] (2:36:09 - 2:36:14)

and outside of the fact that you're my friend and I say good things I think your ads

[Speaker 4] (2:36:14 - 2:36:18)

are the ads that I remember yeah in many many years yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:36:18 - 2:36:19)

thank you I appreciate that

[Speaker 4] (2:36:19 - 2:36:28)

after a really long time if we have ads that have the recall value that used to have of all the iconic ads that we studied in BMM it's yours

BMM

[Speaker 4] (2:36:29 - 2:36:35)

yeah because we had advertising and we would have these case studies that we would study about pepsi and coke and everyone what is BMM

[Speaker 1] (2:36:35 - 2:36:36)

bachelor's in mass media

[Speaker 4] (2:36:36 - 2:36:39)

that's what we both studied fair recall all those campaigns we used to study

[Speaker 1] (2:36:39 - 2:37:55)

like so the agency that I run it's called moonshot there are a couple of agencies that I'm a part of the one that specifically does television commercials is called moonshot I'm very lucky that I've had collaborators over the years who have decided to make my co-founder this by the way is something that I recommend to every influencer right especially those who are you know who have large distributions so I was very lucky that I had a lot of collaborators in the past who you know after you know after a few years they started their own business some of whom I invested in and I became a co-founder in one agency and some that I started with like moonshot is with Divya that's where we write television commercials I actually recommend a lot of you know digital creators to find co-founders to team up with because the biggest leverage that you have is distribution right so if you focus on the shit that you're really good at you can offload a bunch of other stuff on other co-founders it becomes easier for most digital creators to punt on a business or try a new business if there's someone else who you can do it with but if you're alone it becomes very hard to run multiple businesses because running your own distribution channel is also a full time job it's hard enough to do that it's tough for you to think that I'm going to continue building this distribution and I'm going to launch a fashion line and I'm going to do this it becomes hard

I want to make it easy for people watching this okay there's three avenues you can take and you see a lot of us are taking different avenues one you can say I am a creator I'm a successful creator my next step is I want to build my own business and control my own business than do it by myself right that's like that's Nas Daily Nas Company everything I'm doing is like building an entrepreneur building my own stock basically another thing is say I have distribution I love being a creator and I want to partner with others and I want to build five businesses and I'll be a co-founder with other people and so that's you're the path that you've taken another one says actually I want to continue to build a business out of my talent and my creativity and create more content and that's what you're doing writing a book creating a TV show and all that stuff so you continue building you are the business right here is your co-founders are the business here is me and my team are the business right but each way is valid yeah there's no right or wrong there's no right or wrong you are a combination of the three I don't know why

he's doing a bunch of these but one thing I can assure you right you want to build a business under your distribution no matter what because wealth is made through owning through owning equity and not through renting your time out and unfortunately the branded content part of our business it's effectively high rent so you definitely want to do it and I recommend creators who you know you spend the first three four years really growing and really enjoying that but the second you start feeling like maybe there's a ceiling start thinking about start thinking about a business immediately in fact I won't even wait for the second you start feeling like there's a cap to it you want to start doing it before and the way to think about it is your main sources of income are going to be brands that pay you you got to immediately think what are my sources number two three four how else am I going to make money and you got to try everything you want to try affiliate you want to try branded content you want to try building your own business you want to try consultancy you want to try selling merch you got to try

[Speaker 2] (2:39:44 - 2:39:45)

all of it because you don't

[Speaker 1] (2:39:45 - 2:39:46)

know what sticks and what your audience will buy

[Speaker 2] (2:39:46 - 2:39:53)

do you know what you invested in in my company so the money I'm using we're building this platform that you've invested in okay

[Speaker 5] (2:39:53 - 2:39:53)

I know

nas.io so nas.io platform is basically saying okay in the future brands will not be your friends community will be so nas.io basically helps you take your community and turn it into a business that's what is really important helps you sell those digital courses helps you create a membership

helps you make so we're seeing hundreds of people making tens of thousands of dollars in nas.io from their community and that is the future of business building it's in the past twenty years ago I want to start a business on the internet I build the product I use Shopify and I sell the business through marketing today is I create content I get a community I sell I find a product for this community it's a whole new way of making money and so that's what nas.io is designed for and I think that's what a lot of creators will build businesses around I agree with you nice plug

I feel like one thing that nas.io does so well is really sell himself and I mean that in a very good way I'm so bad at it no I think the fact that you

[Speaker 5] (2:41:05 - 2:41:06)

you're doing it again by repetition

[Speaker 4] (2:41:08 - 2:41:17)

and that's what I learnt as a creator that sometimes you don't you have to be your loudest cheerleader you have to scream what you're doing

[Speaker 1] (2:41:17 - 2:41:18)

like your own pose

[Speaker 5] (2:41:19 - 2:41:21)

double tap on your own pictures

[Speaker 4] (2:41:21 - 2:41:26)

I'm saying you have to tell the world what you're doing and exactly how you're doing

[Speaker 3] (2:41:26 - 2:41:28)

you have to have a clear message as well yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:41:28 - 2:41:31)

you gotta know your brand what's the brand

[Speaker 4] (2:41:31 - 2:41:36)

that's selling for sure and you have to keep repeating it what is yours? oh like and subscribe

[Speaker 3] (2:41:39 - 2:41:43)

what is your brand that you keep screaming or that you think is a good idea

[Speaker 4] (2:41:43 - 2:42:06)

so I feel like as a creator it never really stops no matter how many numbers you get no matter how famous you get no matter how much impact you get it never stops you have to constantly keep pushing whatever little small whatever it is tiny thing you did it's a tiny and that could go with brands as well one thing to kind of also retain brands and have longer relationships with them is to subtly over deliver

yeah oh yeah this is a great tip

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:42:11 - 2:42:11)

always over deliver

just subtly don't make it look like you're the God and everything you say will sell but slightly I've promised you three stories I'll give you five you know this is something a lot of creators are really bad at they look at the transaction with the brand as a hey you paid me this much this is what you get

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:42:28 - 2:42:38)

right but really at the end of the day it's people people at the other end who are trying to have a relationship with you and if you truly go out of your way to build that it really pays off

[Speaker 5] (2:42:38 - 2:42:38)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:42:39 - 2:42:39)

it's a very

useful tip right

[Speaker 1] (2:42:41 - 2:42:55)

yeah it's super useful and a lot of people think that you know a lot of people will be like hey I won't work unless these things are required but you won't realize you know it happens with me where I love talking to brand managers I love it I love spending time with them really understanding what they want

a lot of times conversations are easier when you do it

[Speaker 1] (2:42:57 - 2:42:59)

way easier because there's no five middle men

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:42:59 - 2:43:01)

a lot of people like having a manager between you and

[Speaker 3] (2:43:01 - 2:43:06)

someone what is a brand manager like say adidas yeah so adidas has a

[Speaker 1] (2:43:06 - 2:43:13)

so adidas will have a main brand manager then they might have like a person who runs deploys their influencer marketing capital

[Speaker 4] (2:43:13 - 2:43:15)

and then they sometimes have an agency

[Speaker 1] (2:43:15 - 2:43:24)

they sometimes will have an agency these guys have favorites they have favorite creators correct you want to be their favorite you want to be their favorite like they literally decide on where

to deploy dollars based on their timeline

[Speaker 3] (2:43:25 - 2:43:29)

so you're saying favorite is not necessarily traction but also how

[Speaker 2] (2:43:29 - 2:43:30)

relationship

[Speaker 5] (2:43:30 - 2:43:30)

relationship

[Speaker 2] (2:43:30 - 2:43:46)

fully the way it works with brands is three ways one night stands dating yeah or marriage yeah one night stand is give me money I'll give you a service bye bye and they never come back again dating is let's make ten videos in ten months together marriage is I'm your brand ambassador

[Speaker 4] (2:43:46 - 2:43:46)

yeah

[Speaker 2] (2:43:49 - 2:43:50)

with everyone

[Speaker 4] (2:43:50 - 2:43:52)

and that's also the most effective

[Speaker 2] (2:43:52 - 2:43:53)

Ranveer sorry

[Speaker 4] (2:43:55 - 2:44:07)

that is also the most effective kind of translation that will happen of a relationship with a brand I've found out that when you do longer associations it also benefits you as a creator and to your credibility

for sure

[Speaker 4] (2:44:08 - 2:44:15)

because I will see creators who will speak about three brands in the same sector in a span of one month

[Speaker 2] (2:44:15 - 2:44:16)

and that

[Speaker 4] (2:44:16 - 2:44:31)

immediately takes their credibility away from them like but you said that that one was the best face wash now you're saying it's this one so like which one do I but if I sell the same face wash for three years that brings my credibility up for other brand products

[Speaker 3] (2:44:31 - 2:44:38)

would you also only sell what you like or would you sell who pays most creators would sell who pays

[Speaker 5] (2:44:38 - 2:44:41)

not me there's a number

[Speaker 1] (2:44:41 - 2:44:49)

for most creators but there's some like obvious category blocks like you want to avoid betting and you want to avoid some stuff fairness creams

[Speaker 5] (2:44:49 - 2:44:50)

do you think

this also become more relevant because people have lost faith in Bollywood and cricket because they sold everything for so long so people don't buy from them anymore

[Speaker 2] (2:45:00 - 2:45:04)

I think it's because the cricket player doesn't tell a story the cricket player just wears a t-shirt and smiles

[Speaker 1] (2:45:04 - 2:45:15)

Nikhil, I don't think it's about them using the product in the first case it's all about legitimacy if I see a brand with Shahrukh I'm not thinking Shahrukh uses this I'm thinking this brand can afford Shahrukh they're not going away anytime

[Speaker 3] (2:45:15 - 2:45:18)

but when you see Prajakta using it do you think she uses it

[Speaker 1] (2:45:18 - 2:45:34)

yeah I think even in the creator segment you know some creators are you know more either add more legitimacy or they know that this creator is really big so this must have been expensive to buy this lot so it's spending power of a brand determines trust and legitimacy

[Speaker 3] (2:45:34 - 2:45:35)

what is Shahrukh

[Speaker 1] (2:45:35 - 2:45:38)

doing right oh so many things

[Speaker 4] (2:45:38 - 2:45:40)

see again he's his biggest fan

[Speaker 1] (2:45:40 - 2:45:41)

who?

[Speaker 4] (2:45:41 - 2:45:41)

Shahrukh

[Speaker 1] (2:45:41 - 2:45:42)

he's his biggest fan

[Speaker 4] (2:45:42 - 2:45:54)

he is pushing everything he's doing and he is not being humble about it he's there he's like I'm good and I'm doing this and I feel like that is what I love about and that's what I want to learn

[Speaker 1] (2:45:54 - 2:46:02)

this is something that Shahrukh has said before which is his relationship with brands I think it was Hyundai that he spoke about saying that Hyundai did not

[Speaker 3] (2:46:02 - 2:46:03)

he used those cars like visibly

[Speaker 1] (2:46:03 - 2:46:39)

he visibly used those cars and he went out of his way and he had a very long partnership with them like he launched it with them and he has publicly said that there are you know brands like Hyundai supported him even during the bad times look it's you forget the other day most of these industries are really small the same people work in like 10 15 different brands like very rarely do people just stick around with one place for 20 years people move around this is so rare that creators develop relationships with brand managers it's very rare some of it is because you know agencies in the middle are very scared that if a creator talks to a client directly they're going to miss their brokerage

[Speaker 4] (2:46:39 - 2:46:41)

they'll know how much brokerage

[Speaker 1] (2:46:41 - 2:46:45)

is gone that kind of thing this is why I push creators to talk to the brand guys

[Speaker 2] (2:46:45 - 2:47:13)

directly it's super important don't put all your eggs into one manager because your manager may not have your best interest in mind I've never had a manager in my entire life nothing wrong with having a manager I know you have a manager nothing wrong with that but be careful because when I am a brand and I give creators money if a manager comes to me and be like you can't talk to my client and my client doesn't do anything for less than $10,000 I give them the middle finger and I move the fuck on so you don't want to be that guy yeah

[Speaker 3] (2:47:13 - 2:47:14)

Viraj is your manager

[Speaker 2] (2:47:15 - 2:47:15)

also my co-founder

[Speaker 1] (2:47:17 - 2:47:21)

yeah it's important to get your manager's incentives aligned with you because some things

[Speaker 2] (2:47:21 - 2:47:38)

you want to do for free but your manager doesn't make any money on it because they take a commission but it's good for your branding like going to Davos Davos doesn't pay but it's important that we go to Davos to increase the brand so the manager's incentive is only to work on brands that make money so that's where the problems start to happen

yeah

[Speaker 2] (2:47:38 - 2:47:44)

but these are the top of the pile you guys are top of the pyramid I would call it

[Speaker 3] (2:47:44 - 2:47:47)

survival we're survivors it's a survival game it's not like

[Speaker 1] (2:47:47 - 2:47:49)

there's likes and victimhood

[Speaker 5] (2:47:52 - 2:47:55)

we made it through we split our ground

[Speaker 2] (2:47:55 - 2:48:02)

when do you start making money? meaningful money or any money?

any money I think within like two months yeah?

[Speaker 1] (2:48:03 - 2:48:21)

I actually didn't make any money for like almost a year wow I made $200 after two months if you I think if you start getting upwards of you know 50,000 views on YouTube and if you get that regularly YouTube will start paying you how much will they pay you?

[Speaker 3] (2:48:21 - 2:48:33)

let's say you put out four videos in a month which get one gets 50 another gets 10 another gets 5 then you make nothing 50, 5, 10 and all you make nothing yeah no? no

[Speaker 4] (2:48:33 - 2:48:35)

yeah that is why it took me that long

[Speaker 1] (2:48:35 - 2:48:44)

you wanna make I think you wanna make at least you wanna get at least 100,000 views plus for you to make a few thousand rupees on YouTube in India

[Speaker 5] (2:48:44 - 2:48:45)

wow

this is why I get back to the same point on YouTube you need a million people to make $100 in a community you need 100 people to make $1000 in a community each one of your members will pay you $10 that $10 times 100 is $1000 your community is where you make the money not from the brands and not from YouTube any hint hack on building that community? yes own the audience how?

it's so important my biggest mistake was for 7 years I was just going viral making TikTok happy making Facebook happy making Instagram happy your scroll pass and you'll never see me again right? no now in the middle of the freaking video I stop and I'm like listen you mister person you like my video about Ecuador join my Nasa Yo community because I am going to take you to Ecuador so every video I have a million views I funnel 20,000 people and I get their email and I get their phone number great now I can reach those people for the next 10 years while I can never reach them again on YouTube it's in the platform's interest to not let you own the audience they never let you so now I have 20,000 people I email them I email them using Nasa Yo

with subscribers

[Speaker 2] (2:49:51 - 2:49:52)

subscriber audience

[Speaker 1] (2:49:52 - 2:49:53)

so here's

[Speaker 2] (2:49:53 - 2:49:54)

the interesting part I need my money

[Speaker 1] (2:49:54 - 2:49:58)

on YouTube so if YouTube is on subscribes to you you don't get any details about them

[Speaker 3] (2:49:58 - 2:50:00)

like do you have an audience whose number email

[Speaker 2] (2:50:00 - 2:50:01)

I have 400,000 now

[Speaker 3] (2:50:01 - 2:50:02)

I don't have that

[Speaker 2] (2:50:03 - 2:50:04)

you need to start building that

[Speaker 1] (2:50:04 - 2:50:08)

I have a mind performance app so they go there they use the app

[Speaker 2] (2:50:08 - 2:50:08)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:50:08 - 2:50:12)

I don't have that either you need that too I need that very badly

[Speaker 2] (2:50:12 - 2:50:24)

I wish somebody told me this when I started I would have 5 million numbers now but I only have 400,000 but 80% of my revenue now comes from these 400,000 emails maybe correct me if I'm wrong

[Speaker 1] (2:50:25 - 2:50:33)

the way I look at it is if you're getting the numbers and names and also giving them some utility in return it's much more long term and powerful

[Speaker 2] (2:50:33 - 2:50:34)

yes

[Speaker 1] (2:50:34 - 2:50:38)

I think that's how young content creators should look at it

[Speaker 2] (2:50:38 - 2:50:40)

yeah that's what it means to build a community off of social media

[Speaker 1] (2:50:40 - 2:50:43)

I'm not talking about but generally I think a lot of people

just send out newsletters and all I don't know how effective newsletters are anymore and I might be entirely wrong oh very effective like my ex-girlfriend Aline right she has let's say 300,000 followers on I'll give you a number because she's all public about her numbers 300,000 followers on Instagram she's like at a time join my newsletter join my newsletter okay so NASA helps you do that so join my newsletter just in case

just in case

[Speaker 2] (2:51:06 - 2:51:16)

so now she has I think 10,000 emails of girls interested in retreats each product is $3,000 $4,000 now

[Speaker 1] (2:51:16 - 2:51:18)

$3 million of potential revenue

[Speaker 2] (2:51:18 - 2:51:29)

yeah so she makes $500,000 a year from that 10,000 mailing list selling retreats wow and she makes zero from Instagram that's where the real money is then

[Speaker 2] (2:51:30 - 2:51:33)

yes yeah in owning your audience yes I agree

[Speaker 1] (2:51:34 - 2:51:45)

do you feel any difference any different about the Indian audiences and how they respond to these things no I think it's possible to get get the data I think that's very possible you just need the right character at the end of it

[Speaker 5] (2:51:45 - 2:51:46)

yeah

[Speaker 1] (2:51:46 - 2:52:19)

I also think that Indian audience ARPU is lower but I think that if you find the right product you're able to monetize them like it's possible to do it's just whether me and you can do it depends really depends on the product it's possible to do it what's a really successful Indian content creator led product finance for Sharan finance for Sharan Sharan has done it really well I think a lot of the guys who do courses are able to monetize very easily because OPM right which is you think that doing X is going to help you do way better products are harder to move because

physical products you mean

[Speaker 1] (2:52:21 - 2:52:29)

yeah physical products are harder to move like I know Bollywood movie stars have launched products and most of them are tanked there are very few hits like it has to be the right and perfect fit

[Speaker 2] (2:52:29 - 2:52:35)

Hrithik and HRX was perfect that's why I recommend experiences not a lot of creators are doing that I feel like dance

[Speaker 4] (2:52:35 - 2:52:36)

creators are doing that no?

[Speaker 2] (2:52:36 - 2:53:27)

like learn dancing perfect like Nicole and Sonal are doing that yeah you can build a bunch of service businesses easily take your audience with you to the Himalayas for a 7 day meditation retreat I would do it with you you're the guru on this stuff how to be more connected with yourself I would do it with you will YouTube go after you when you do that? no they will not Patreon is a 5 billion dollar company and that's the whole idea of it they upload videos early right? what does Patreon do?

Patreon is a different platform where you can pay a creator a certain fee to get certain memberships but basically you take the data I mean taking the data from YouTube it's fair and square if you're doing it like inside the video content if you put a link and people click on it it's fair and square does YouTube downgrade you if you're monetizing versus being free?

no does it upgrade you if you're monetizing?

[Speaker 1] (2:53:30 - 2:53:34)

no they don't care I mean it's good for them if you're monetizing because they're also

[Speaker 3] (2:53:34 - 2:53:35)

monetizing them

[Speaker 1] (2:53:35 - 2:53:40)

YouTube takes 55% of ad revenue and 30% of membership revenue

[Speaker 3] (2:53:41 - 2:53:49)

okay so the last section the penultimate section is how to damn

[Speaker 4] (2:53:49 - 2:53:51)

the last section of this section

just between us like we want to cover the entire breadth of what a young person wanting to build a following needs what do you think we've missed? nothing see you next time any tools any like hacks do you use chat gpt mid journey all of that is useful all the AI tools will be super useful rate in order of useful the top three gpt is very useful for?

[Speaker 1] (2:54:20 - 2:55:25)

everything for everything ideation writing like scripts are now automated yeah we're gonna have one click LLM training very soon it's already out there it's just not mega simplified what is LLM training? large language model training which means you can take potentially all the scripts you've ever written in your voice feed it into a large language model and it can start spitting out content in your style like it's doable like people have already done it with comedians like they've taken scripts of you know Bill Hicks George Carlin and said what would George Carlin say about why and if you have enough data to train the LLM this is possible to do and it will be eventually very very easy to do dubbing tools just keep an eye out on the AI stuff follow overpowered that's super helpful gpt is super useful all things content creation it can help you ideate think of titles what should be the thumbnail everything writing the full script all that is useful one hack that I would recommend is if you know how to edit it's super useful if you know how the end product is made after you're done shooting it is very useful cause it'll start changing the way you actually even start thinking about

but will your editing quality be as good as a professional in time

[Speaker 1] (2:55:30 - 2:55:40)

if you edit enough yeah I would say if you can edit a short form video with captions cuts other footage you're learning a lot in a very quick time

[Speaker 2] (2:55:41 - 2:56:04)

but actually my biggest recommendation to people is your first hire should be an editor if you can afford to hire anybody hire an editor because that's how you buy back your time so when I was making the daily videos I made the first 750 videos myself it was taking me 5 hours of editing every single day when I hired that person it freed me 5 hours a day to do everything else build a business get an editor if you have really talented

team members like if your editor is really good people are going to try and poach this editor immediately people are literally going to try and copy, poach do all that so one thing that's really helped me is I have a small team of 4-5 folks who've been with me for the last 3-4 years and you hide them I don't hide them they get credited in every video their names and Instagram IDs are public but one thing that I did is every time I do like a sponsored thing everybody involved in the video gets a piece of it so the editor gets paid bonus on a sponsored video the cast members get a piece of this thing right from Shankar to the editors to the cast members everybody gets a piece of the sponsored content that comes in because it just you know the vibe of the room changes when I say there's a sponsored video because everybody who's working on it feels like alright good payday for me it's a good idea I recommend that I would highly recommend it because I know my guys like you know months that I have had a great month they've had a great month too months where I've had an okay month they've had an okay month

I feel like that's what I mean when I say that collaboration is so important when you become a creator eventually you are going to have to make your band of people who believe in your content and want to contribute to it as much as you do

[Speaker 1] (2:57:18 - 2:57:24)

most of the content creators who went mainstream and then faded away often it was an outcome of the teams leaving them

[Speaker 2] (2:57:24 - 2:57:25)

I've noticed this a lot

[Speaker 1] (2:57:25 - 2:57:31)

and most people don't do this I say this a lot to other creators and everyone's always like oh you do that we do this but we do 7% profit share so every month 7% of the profit goes back to the team as a bonus it gets tricky when the team is too big because you don't want the editor to make the most money and the executive assistant not to make any money

[Speaker 2] (2:57:31 - 2:57:44)

[Speaker 1] (2:57:44 - 2:57:45)

so you want to make

[Speaker 2] (2:57:45 - 2:57:47)

sure the whole team

[Speaker 1] (2:57:47 - 2:57:50)

gets part of that it's very easy when it's just a small team

[Speaker 2] (2:57:51 - 2:58:23)

and if somebody watching this if you don't want to be a creator and you say oh my face is not designed for this my personality I'm too shy for this then become an editor for every one of us we have created together 200-300 jobs so there's 200 creator economy jobs from 4 channels so you can be an editor you can be an executive assistant you can be a producer you can be a script writer there's many jobs in the creator economy if you're still watching until the end of this video it really means you should apply for one of these jobs does how you look what you wear matter?

[Speaker 3] (2:58:24 - 2:58:29)

makeup no makeup how you look what t-shirt you're wearing what dress you're wearing

[Speaker 1] (2:58:29 - 2:58:31)

I mean Nusair wears the same thing everyday

[Speaker 4] (2:58:31 - 2:58:32)

I know

[Speaker 1] (2:58:33 - 2:58:34)

depends if you're a guy or a girl to be honest

[Speaker 2] (2:58:34 - 2:58:37)

yeah depends if you're a guy or a girl looks matter a lot for women

but you know I remember when I started off on YouTube when I started uploading content at that time it was oh if you're going on camera you have to put makeup on if I'm shooting a video I have to put makeup on I have to dress a certain way I have to speak a certain way and then I think 3 or 4 weeks into making my videos I did one video where I sat down in my pyjamas and I wasn't wearing any makeup and my hair wasn't real talk Tuesday my first real talk Tuesday video I was replying to hate comments and all the comments under were oh my god you really it's so nice to see you like this because you're more relatable like that and ever since then my idea of associating the way I look to what I do has really changed and that only happened because I put myself out on the internet so it can work either ways

[Speaker 1] (2:59:30 - 2:59:34)

Prajakta is pretty like real that way like she's sweating and working out

[Speaker 2] (2:59:34 - 2:59:36)

and that's why people love you because you're very

relatable and I've also had a time where I went on a because I felt that pressure at one point and I was like everybody's posting such nice pictures maybe I should get styled and you know I should also do like hair and makeup all the time and all the pictures have to be SLR pictures and I put them out and the first picture did really well and then the second dipped and then the third dipped and the fourth dipped and then I put out a selfie of me eating Chinese at the Yash Rajwali Gully and that one shot up and that's when I realised that you know what it's different for everyone and I'm so happy that I'm in a position where I can de-link the two things so it really depends on how you approach it and what precedent you want to set with it

[Speaker 1] (3:00:18 - 3:00:24)

Female influencers have it rough like the head count that comes with the pressure of always looking good is like yeah

[Speaker 3] (3:00:24 - 3:00:26)

and the comment section

[Speaker 1] (3:00:26 - 3:00:28)

and the comment section

[Speaker 3] (3:00:28 - 3:00:59)

How much money does it cost to produce videos when you're beginning? Depends on the kind of videos Nikhil should be zero just your time so okay last last question we we told people we we tried to teach people how to become an influencer how the monetisation world works last question how to stay relevant how to continue to get traction and grow once you have become an influencer keep reinventing have some form of that's very broad what did you say?

[Speaker 1] (3:00:59 - 3:01:38)

keep some form of reinvention going every six months for example either you think of switching genres I'm just telling based on what's worked for me or in the product that you're creating which for me in this case this is the podcast you have to bring something new some new genre if you're constantly bringing one narrative bring the opposite narrative you have to observe novelty and personally I feel the core of this is in your real life as a human you have to keep evolving either find new friend groups travel more learn a new skill you have to do new shit because the content at the end of the day is coming out of your heart so that's the core at least that's what worked for me to break it down into a really tiny piece listen to your audience your audience that's the good thing about putting yourself on the internet they're extremely honest nothing will

[Speaker 5] (3:01:49 - 3:01:49)

humble you

nothing will humble you like your audience if it's working they're going to shout it and they're going to tell you that it's working the minute it stops working they're going to shout that also how does it sound when it stops working oh my god videos are not fun anymore we used to like the kind of videos we used to make before go back to doing that this is not working it's very blatant you won't have to sit and decipher it's in the words it's written that many words to you and these are people and I look forward to this because this is the community that has held me through all the new things that I said the Khayali pullout that he was talking about it was a short film that was so away from the content that I'd ever made I was very scared but I couldn't have the guts to make it if I didn't have the confidence that my audience will tell me the truth whether it works or not

also yeah if your engagement goes down that's also a metric of people aren't liking this

[Speaker 4] (3:02:44 - 3:02:53)

yeah your relevance just so it's very easy actually to keep a reality check on how well your content is doing or how relevant you are based on what your audience is telling you

[Speaker 1] (3:02:53 - 3:03:14)

I like to think of it as spikes and waves which is if you wanna be all the consistent stuff that you keep putting out those are waves and you gotta keep thinking about what's your next spike what this means is you're forced to experiment or you're forced to do something that's gonna get the next new unique users onto your platform

[Speaker 2] (3:03:14 - 3:04:16)

so if you live to make videos if your number one goal of living is to make the videos it's unsustainable because at some point you'll be so tired of this you don't wanna make another cooking video you don't wanna make another travel video you're done that's why my number one advice to stay relevant is to live your best life keep living a very interesting life and make videos about that life instead of living life to make videos live an interesting life and take the audience with you so for example when I was traveling the world the audience came with me now I'm building a company the audience must come with me some world don't wanna stay behind but this is where I'm going and the audience must come with me because there's no option because I ain't going back to the old days and then when I do my next my third act the audience will have to come the audience love to see a hero fall and a hero succeed they love to see a hero go up so the most interesting thing about Nas Daily is where is it gonna go next because you don't know that so don't live to make videos live an interesting life and make videos about it

smart makes a lot of sense okay guys at the end of every episode we try and do something to help the community we are teaching on that particular day we hope this is in a manner college that many people most people do not have access to we looked far and wide online on how to be an influencer we didn't find much but when we asked people this is such a profession that young people want to get into now what for me as a kid was being a pilot or an astronaut things I knew shit about but I said it because it was cool back then today that is being a social media content creator so I'd like to request you guys to allocate a certain amount of money we will run a democratic process of picking these creators really talented young budding guys and girls from different corners of India so you allocate the money we will pick them democratically and then we will help them out with whatever we can whoever the winners of this contest in a manner

how many are they going to be? 50 50 people?

[Speaker 3] (3:05:29 - 3:05:37)

so start with Tanmay is there an amount you would like to allocate for this? 5 lakhs Prajakta?

[Speaker 1] (3:05:38 - 3:05:53)

same because I'm religious I'll say 5 lakh and 1 rupee I'll make it 5 lakhs and 2 rupee bidding is good you guys want to compete? I mean if we keep adding 1 rupee we'll be here all day

[Speaker 2] (3:05:54 - 3:06:18)

so I want to take this 5 lakhs and I want to give it to trainers to teach all 50 people for free for 2 months so we're going to give a class with all the stuff that they make we'll give them free education with actual trainers from India and then 2 months and they'll become friends and they'll ditch their old friends and then hopefully they'll become creators so we'll commit to that and I'll add an amount to 50 lakhs

[Speaker 3] (3:06:19 - 3:06:30)

to the same thing and we'll combine it all together and we'll run this and I think it can go a long way in helping many new young people become like people on this table

[Speaker 2] (3:06:31 - 3:06:40)

all better that's amazing that's very generous of you by the way 50 lakhs it's like a big deal we do it every episode wow super cool

[Speaker 1] (3:06:40 - 3:06:44)

yeah you know the guests it's a monetary loss if you're a guest on this podcast

[Speaker 4] (3:06:45 - 3:06:48)

you've been here 4 times you've been here

[Speaker 5] (3:06:48 - 3:06:51)

6 hours what's going on

[Speaker 1] (3:06:52 - 3:06:54)

all the best guys all the best

[Speaker 2] (3:06:54 - 3:07:02)

yeah this is the part where you thank your guests thank you guys for coming was the longest podcast we've done in the history of podcasts

[Speaker 4] (3:07:02 - 3:07:04)

how many hours 5

[Speaker 2] (3:07:04 - 3:07:05)

5 hours

[Speaker 4] (3:07:05 - 3:07:06)

5 hours

[Speaker 2] (3:07:06 - 3:07:10)

5 hour podcast 5 and a half oh my god wow

[Speaker 5] (3:07:10 - 3:07:13)

one last thing we wanted to show you guys

[Speaker 4] (3:07:14 - 3:07:17)

videos from y'all wow

[Speaker 2] (3:07:17 - 3:07:17)

why

[Speaker 4] (3:07:17 - 3:07:19)

we would like all of you to react

[Speaker 5] (3:07:19 - 3:07:21)

that's insane

[Speaker 4] (3:07:21 - 3:07:37)

oh no this can't be nice oh my god hi okay after that freakishly awkward introduction hello my name is Prajakta why why would you do that who the hell is that why would you do that seriously guys seriously

[Speaker 2] (3:07:37 - 3:07:44)

I have no clue why I'm doing this but I think it'll be fun here's the idea once a day I'm gonna make one video that's one minute long that's it

[Speaker 5] (3:07:45 - 3:07:46)

that's that's you

[Speaker 2] (3:07:46 - 3:07:47)

you look so cute bro

[Speaker 5] (3:07:47 - 3:07:51)

that's me what a time as well yeah that's where it all started

[Speaker 3] (3:07:52 - 3:07:53)

hey guys

[Speaker 1] (3:07:53 - 3:08:04)

my name is Prajakta fitness and food are my two biggest passions hence the name we are

[Speaker 4] (3:08:04 - 3:08:09)

that we didn't have a mic

[Speaker 2] (3:08:11 - 3:08:13)

you can eat whatever you want

[Speaker 1] (3:08:15 - 3:08:22)

you'll party I'll party let's party let's party you'll party with me I'll party with you it'll be a full party it'll be a party

[Speaker 5] (3:08:22 - 3:08:23)

it'll be a full party

[Speaker 1] (3:08:24 - 3:08:25)

it'll be a fing

[Speaker 5] (3:08:25 - 3:08:25)

fing fing

[Speaker 3] (3:08:25 - 3:08:29)

fing fing fing party party party

[Speaker 5] (3:08:29 - 3:08:30)

party

[Speaker 3] (3:08:31 - 3:09:01)

we need a before and after video wow what is style to you? honestly I'm not so stylish but I like things which are comfortable so weird 10 years all candles bore me Oh my god, that was really old.

[Speaker 4] (3:09:01 - 3:09:02)

That was a really nice picture.

[Speaker 1] (3:09:03 - 3:09:05)

Suffering from success.

[Speaker 3] (3:09:06 - 3:09:07)

These are all like, really old.

Wow.

[Speaker 5] (3:09:08 - 3:09:15)

That was vanilla, I thought you found some scandalous shit. They did, that was my channel. Guys, this...
